KING BARK: (sigh)

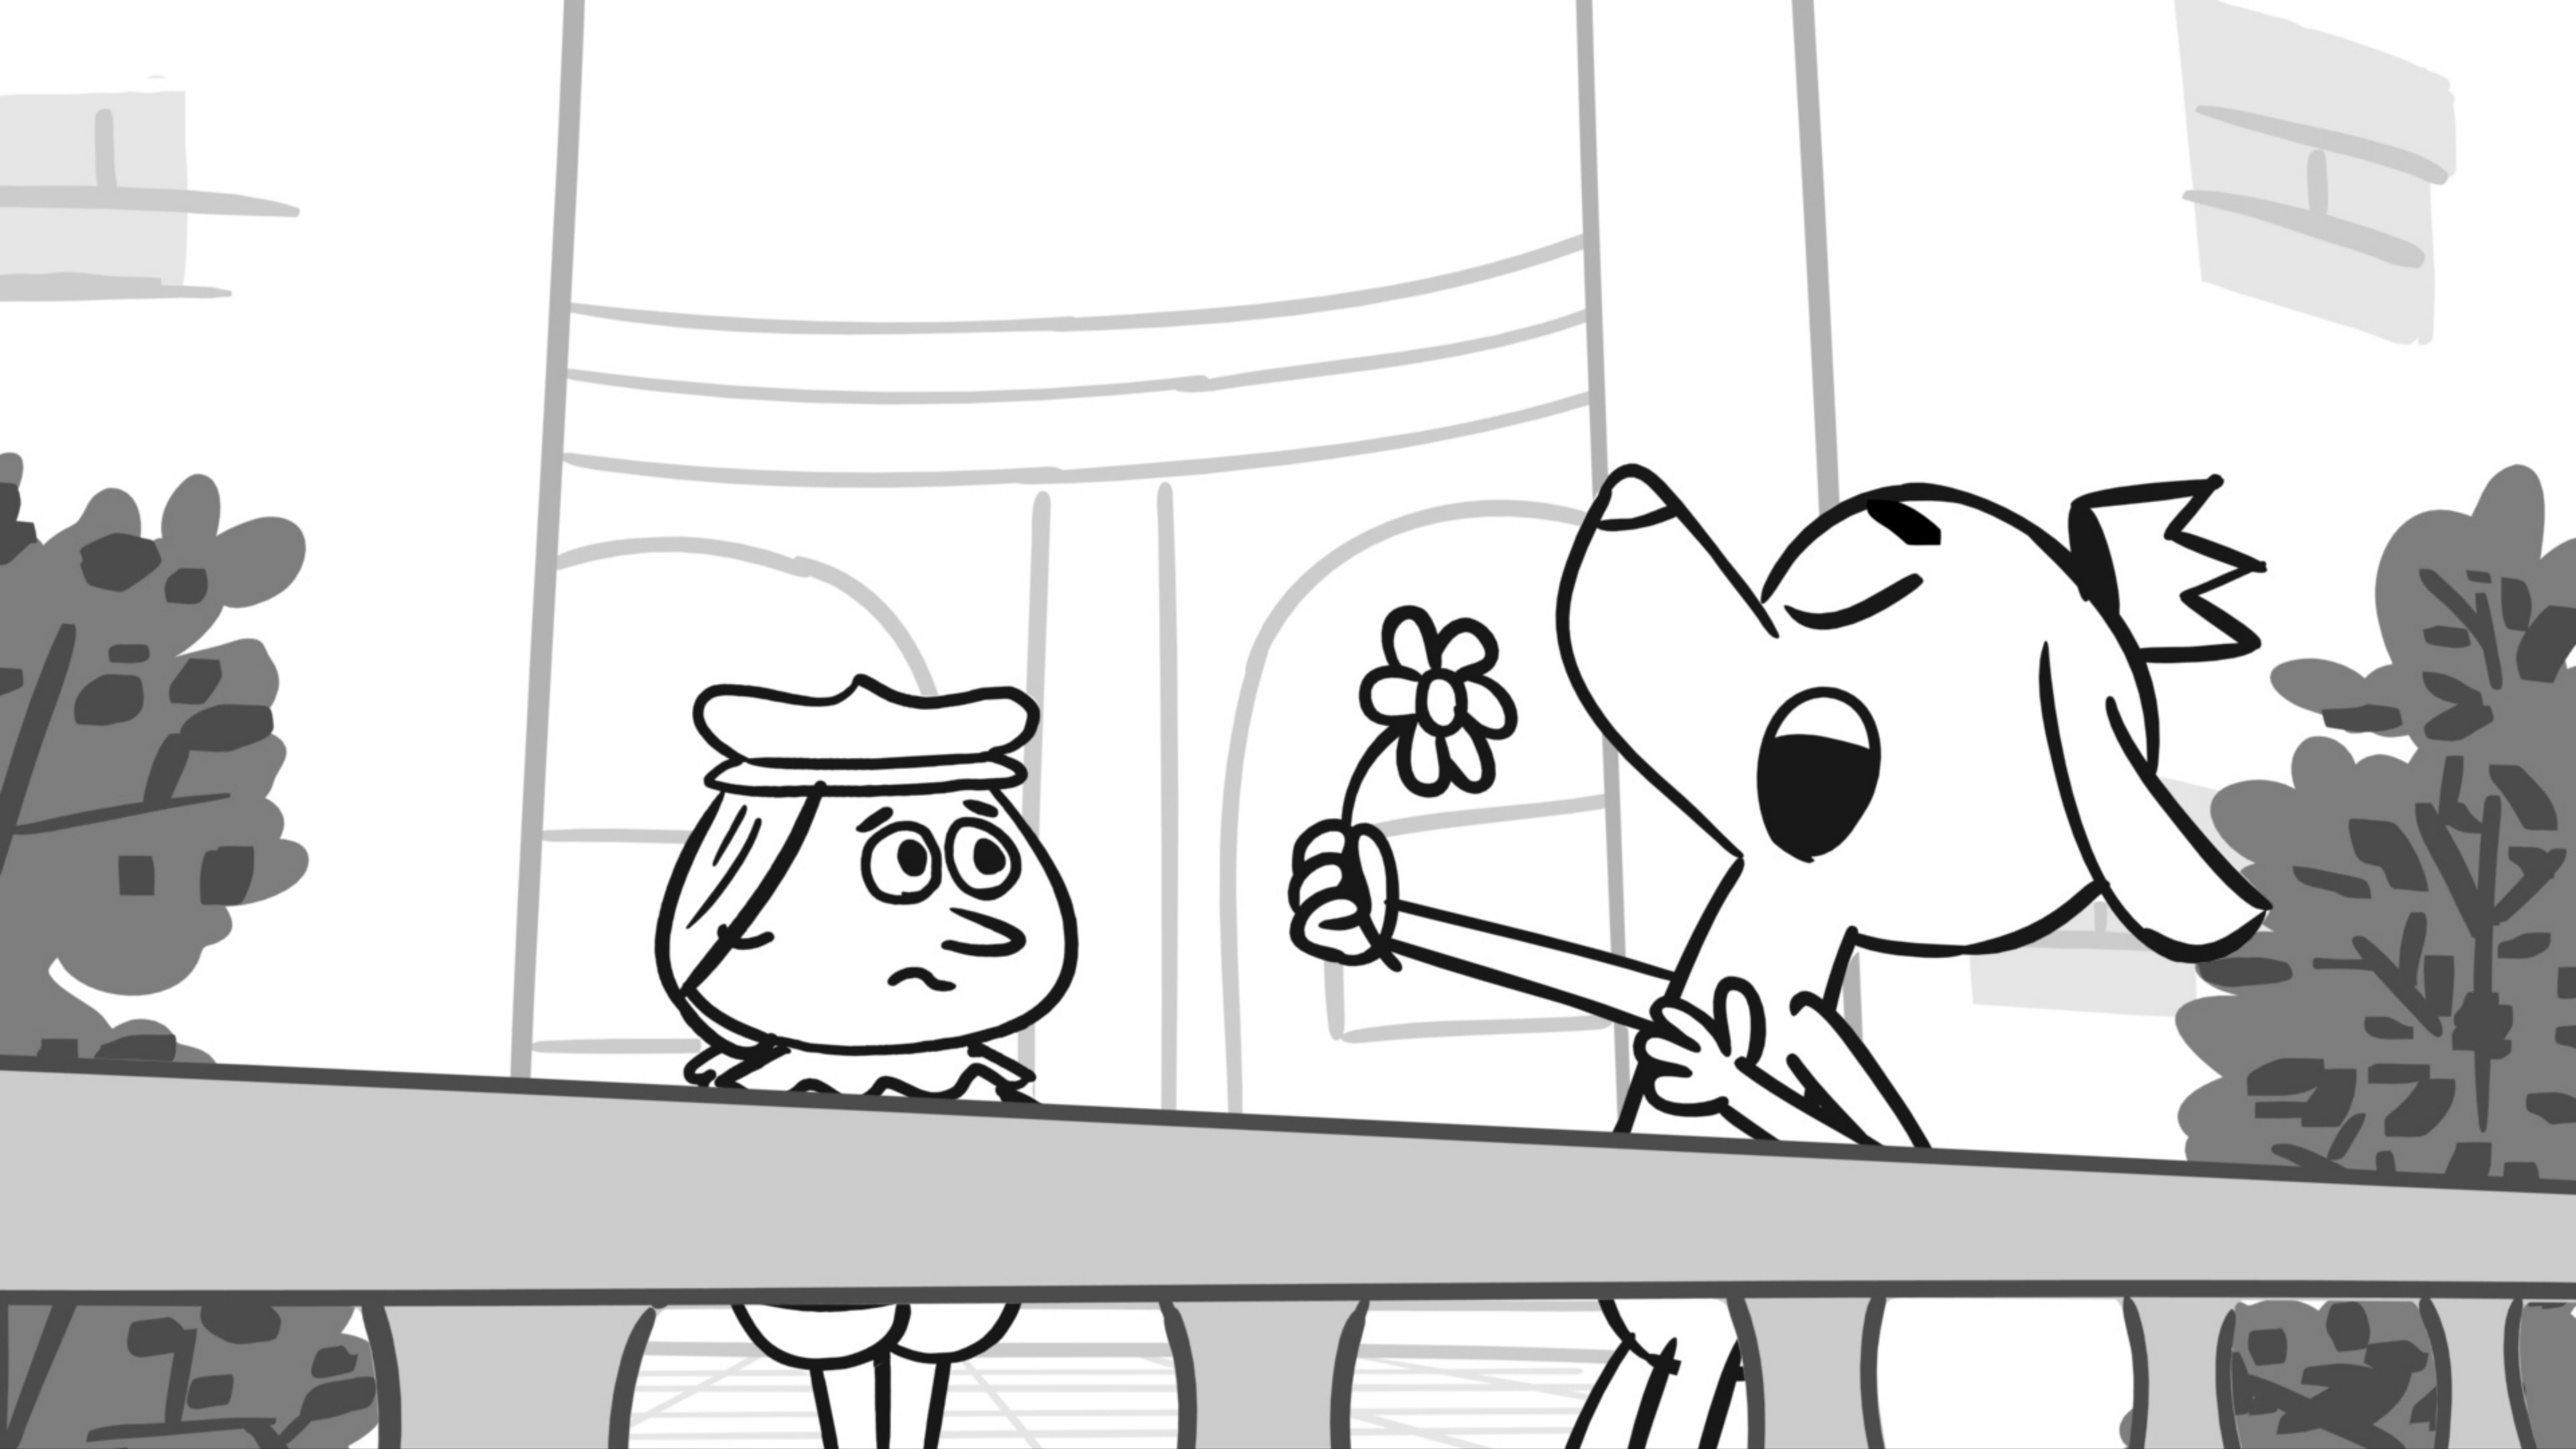

PAT: Um... excuse me sire...

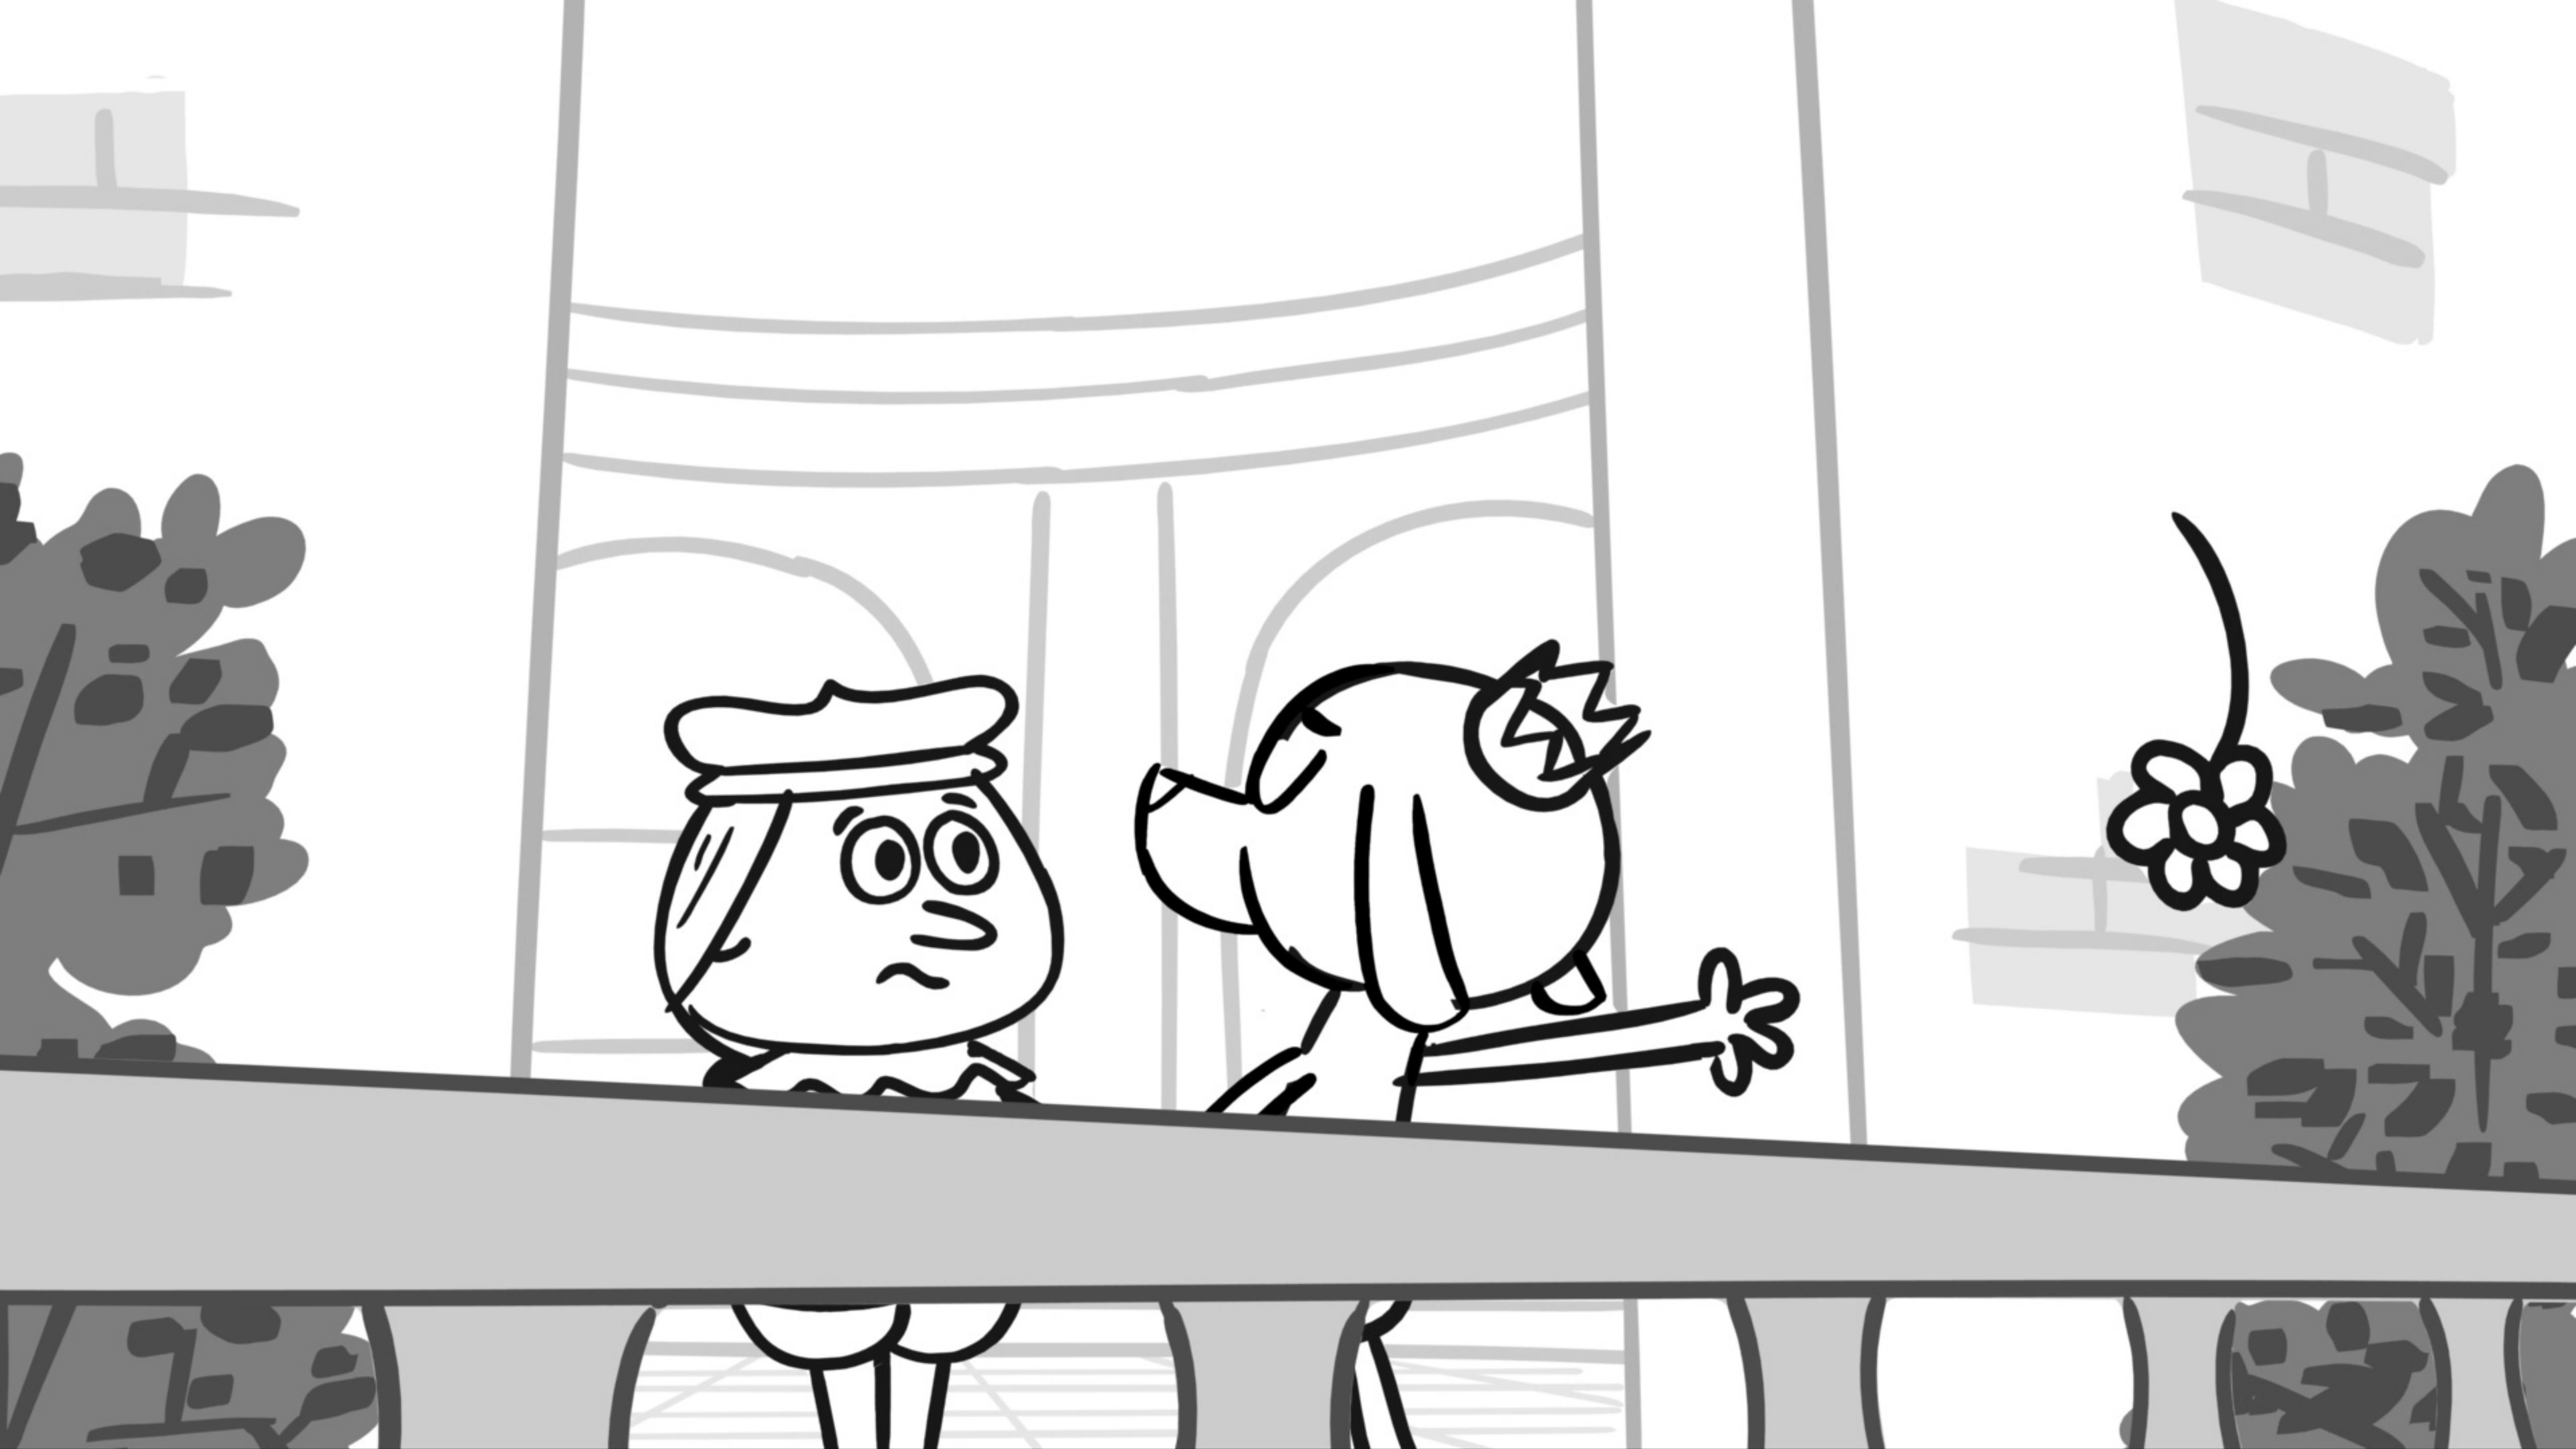

PAT: It is time for his majesty's royal walk.

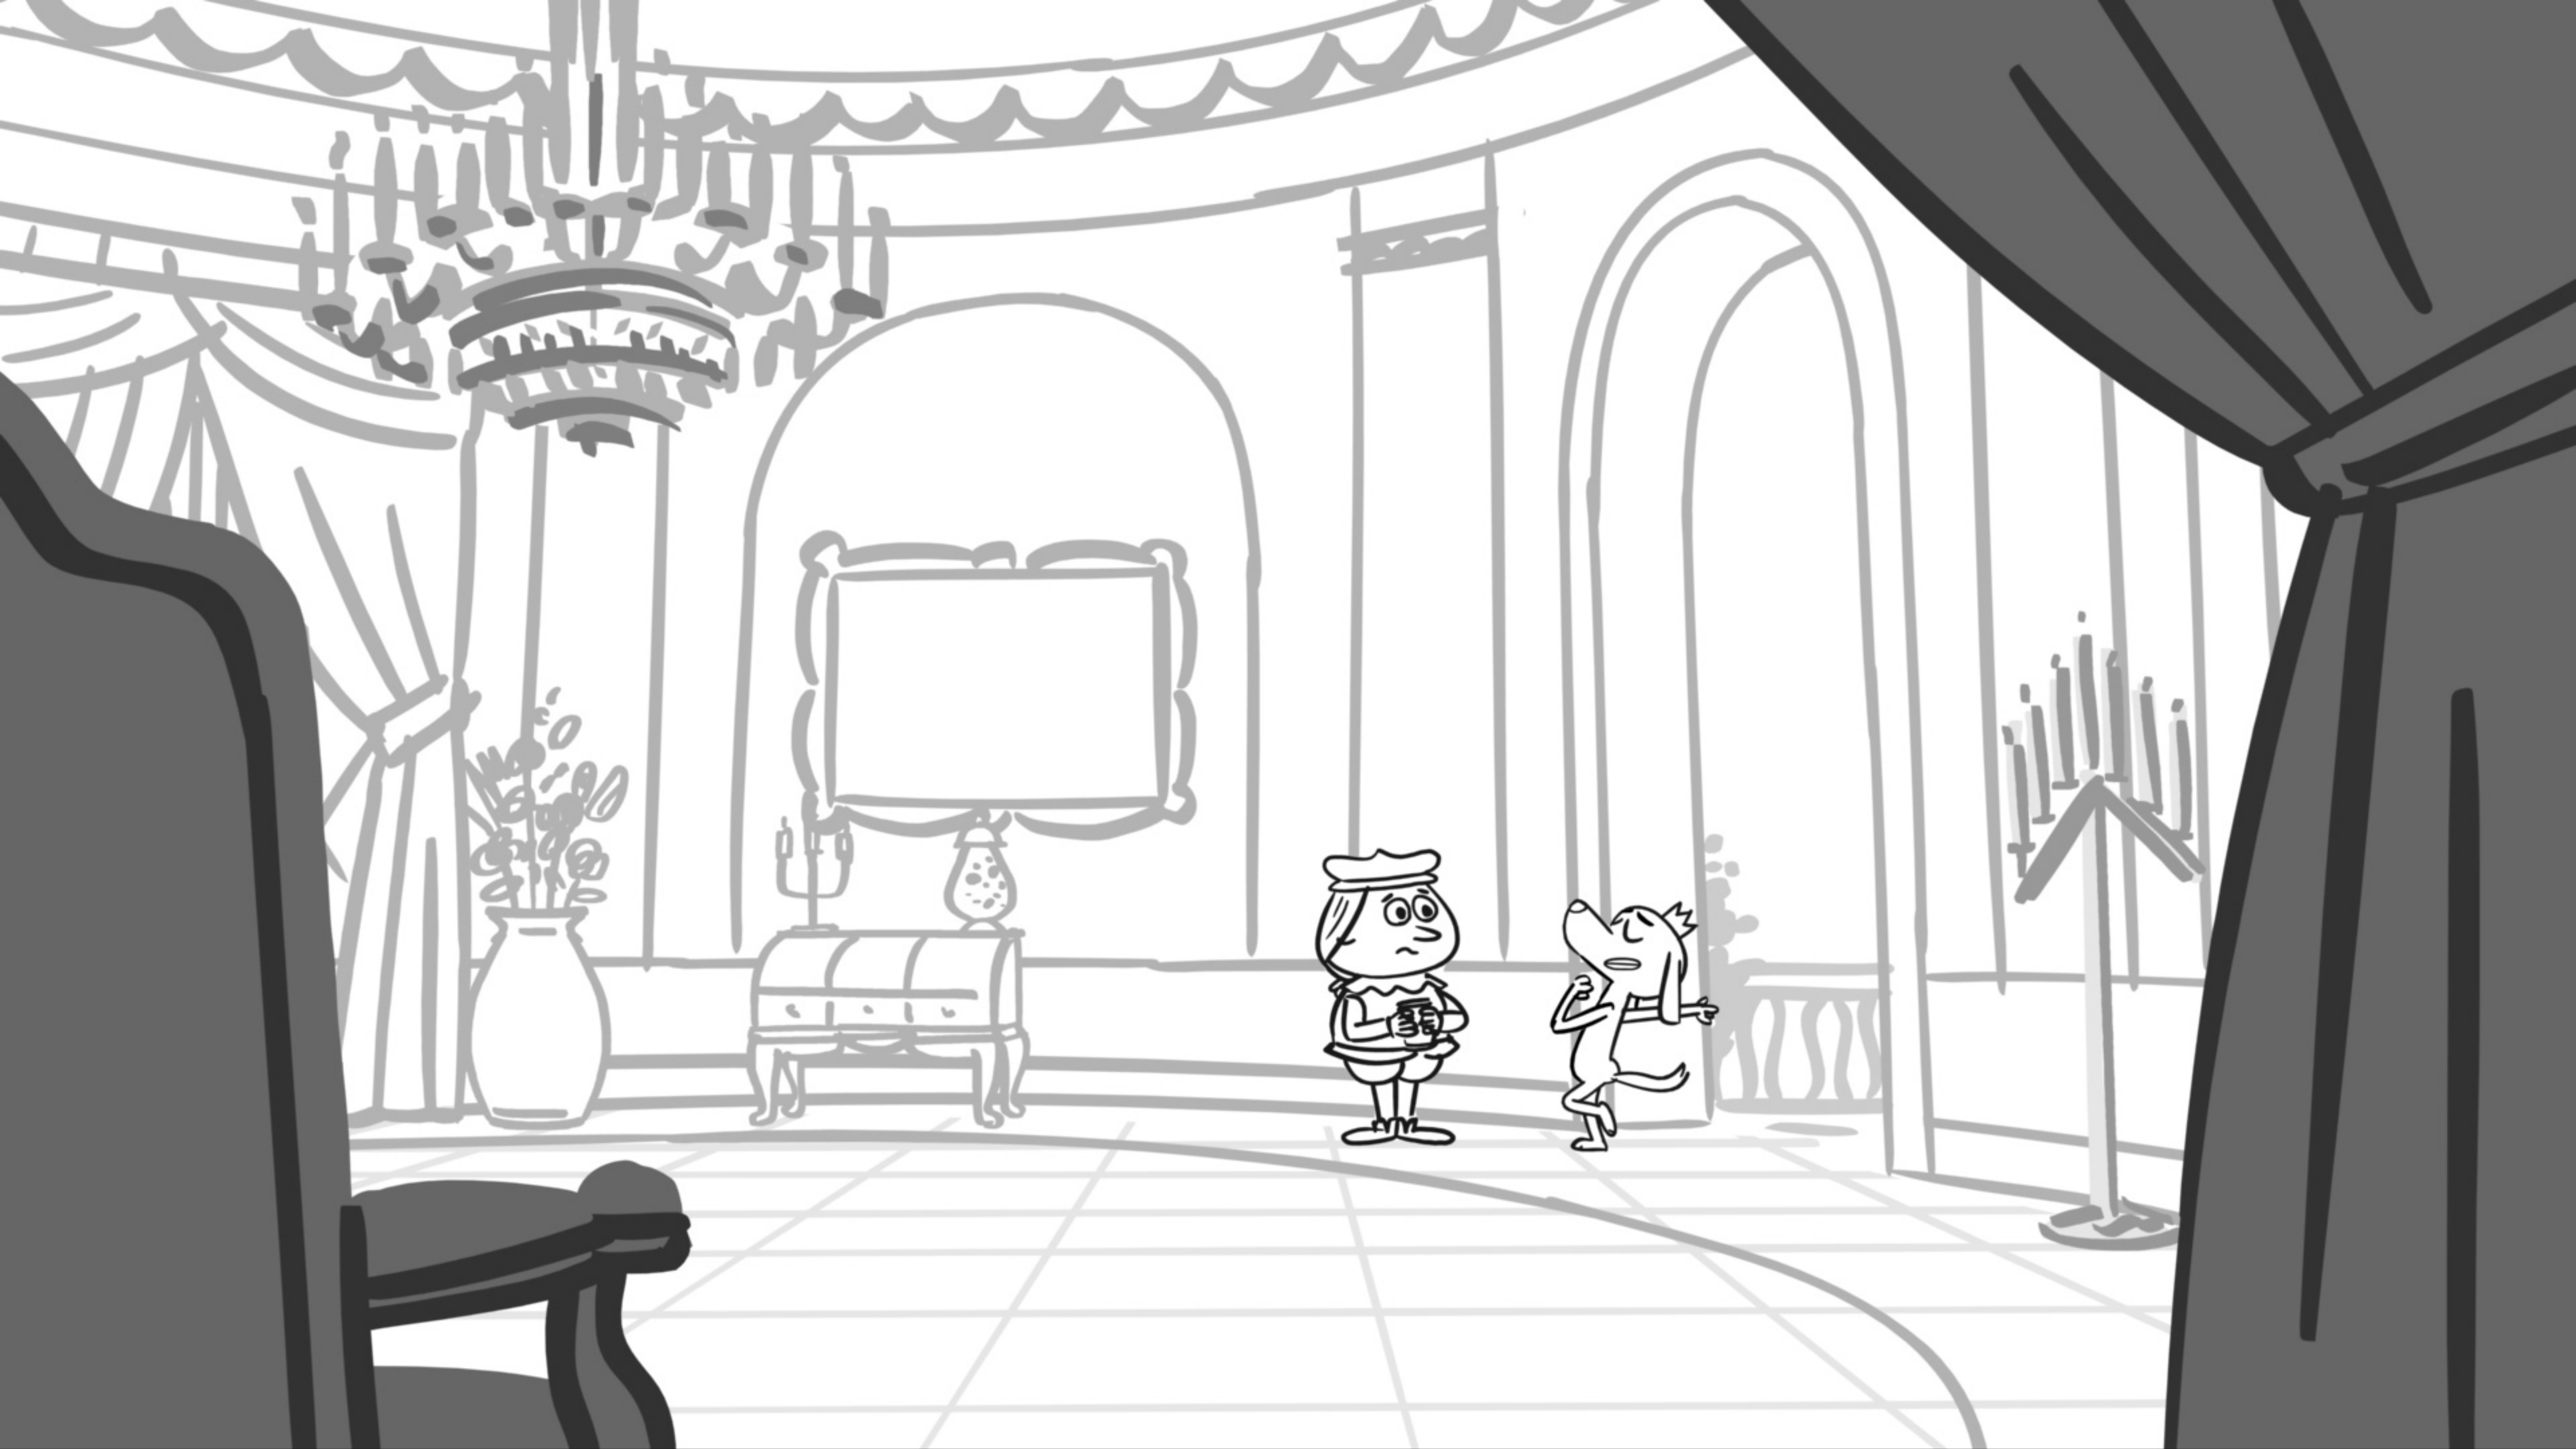

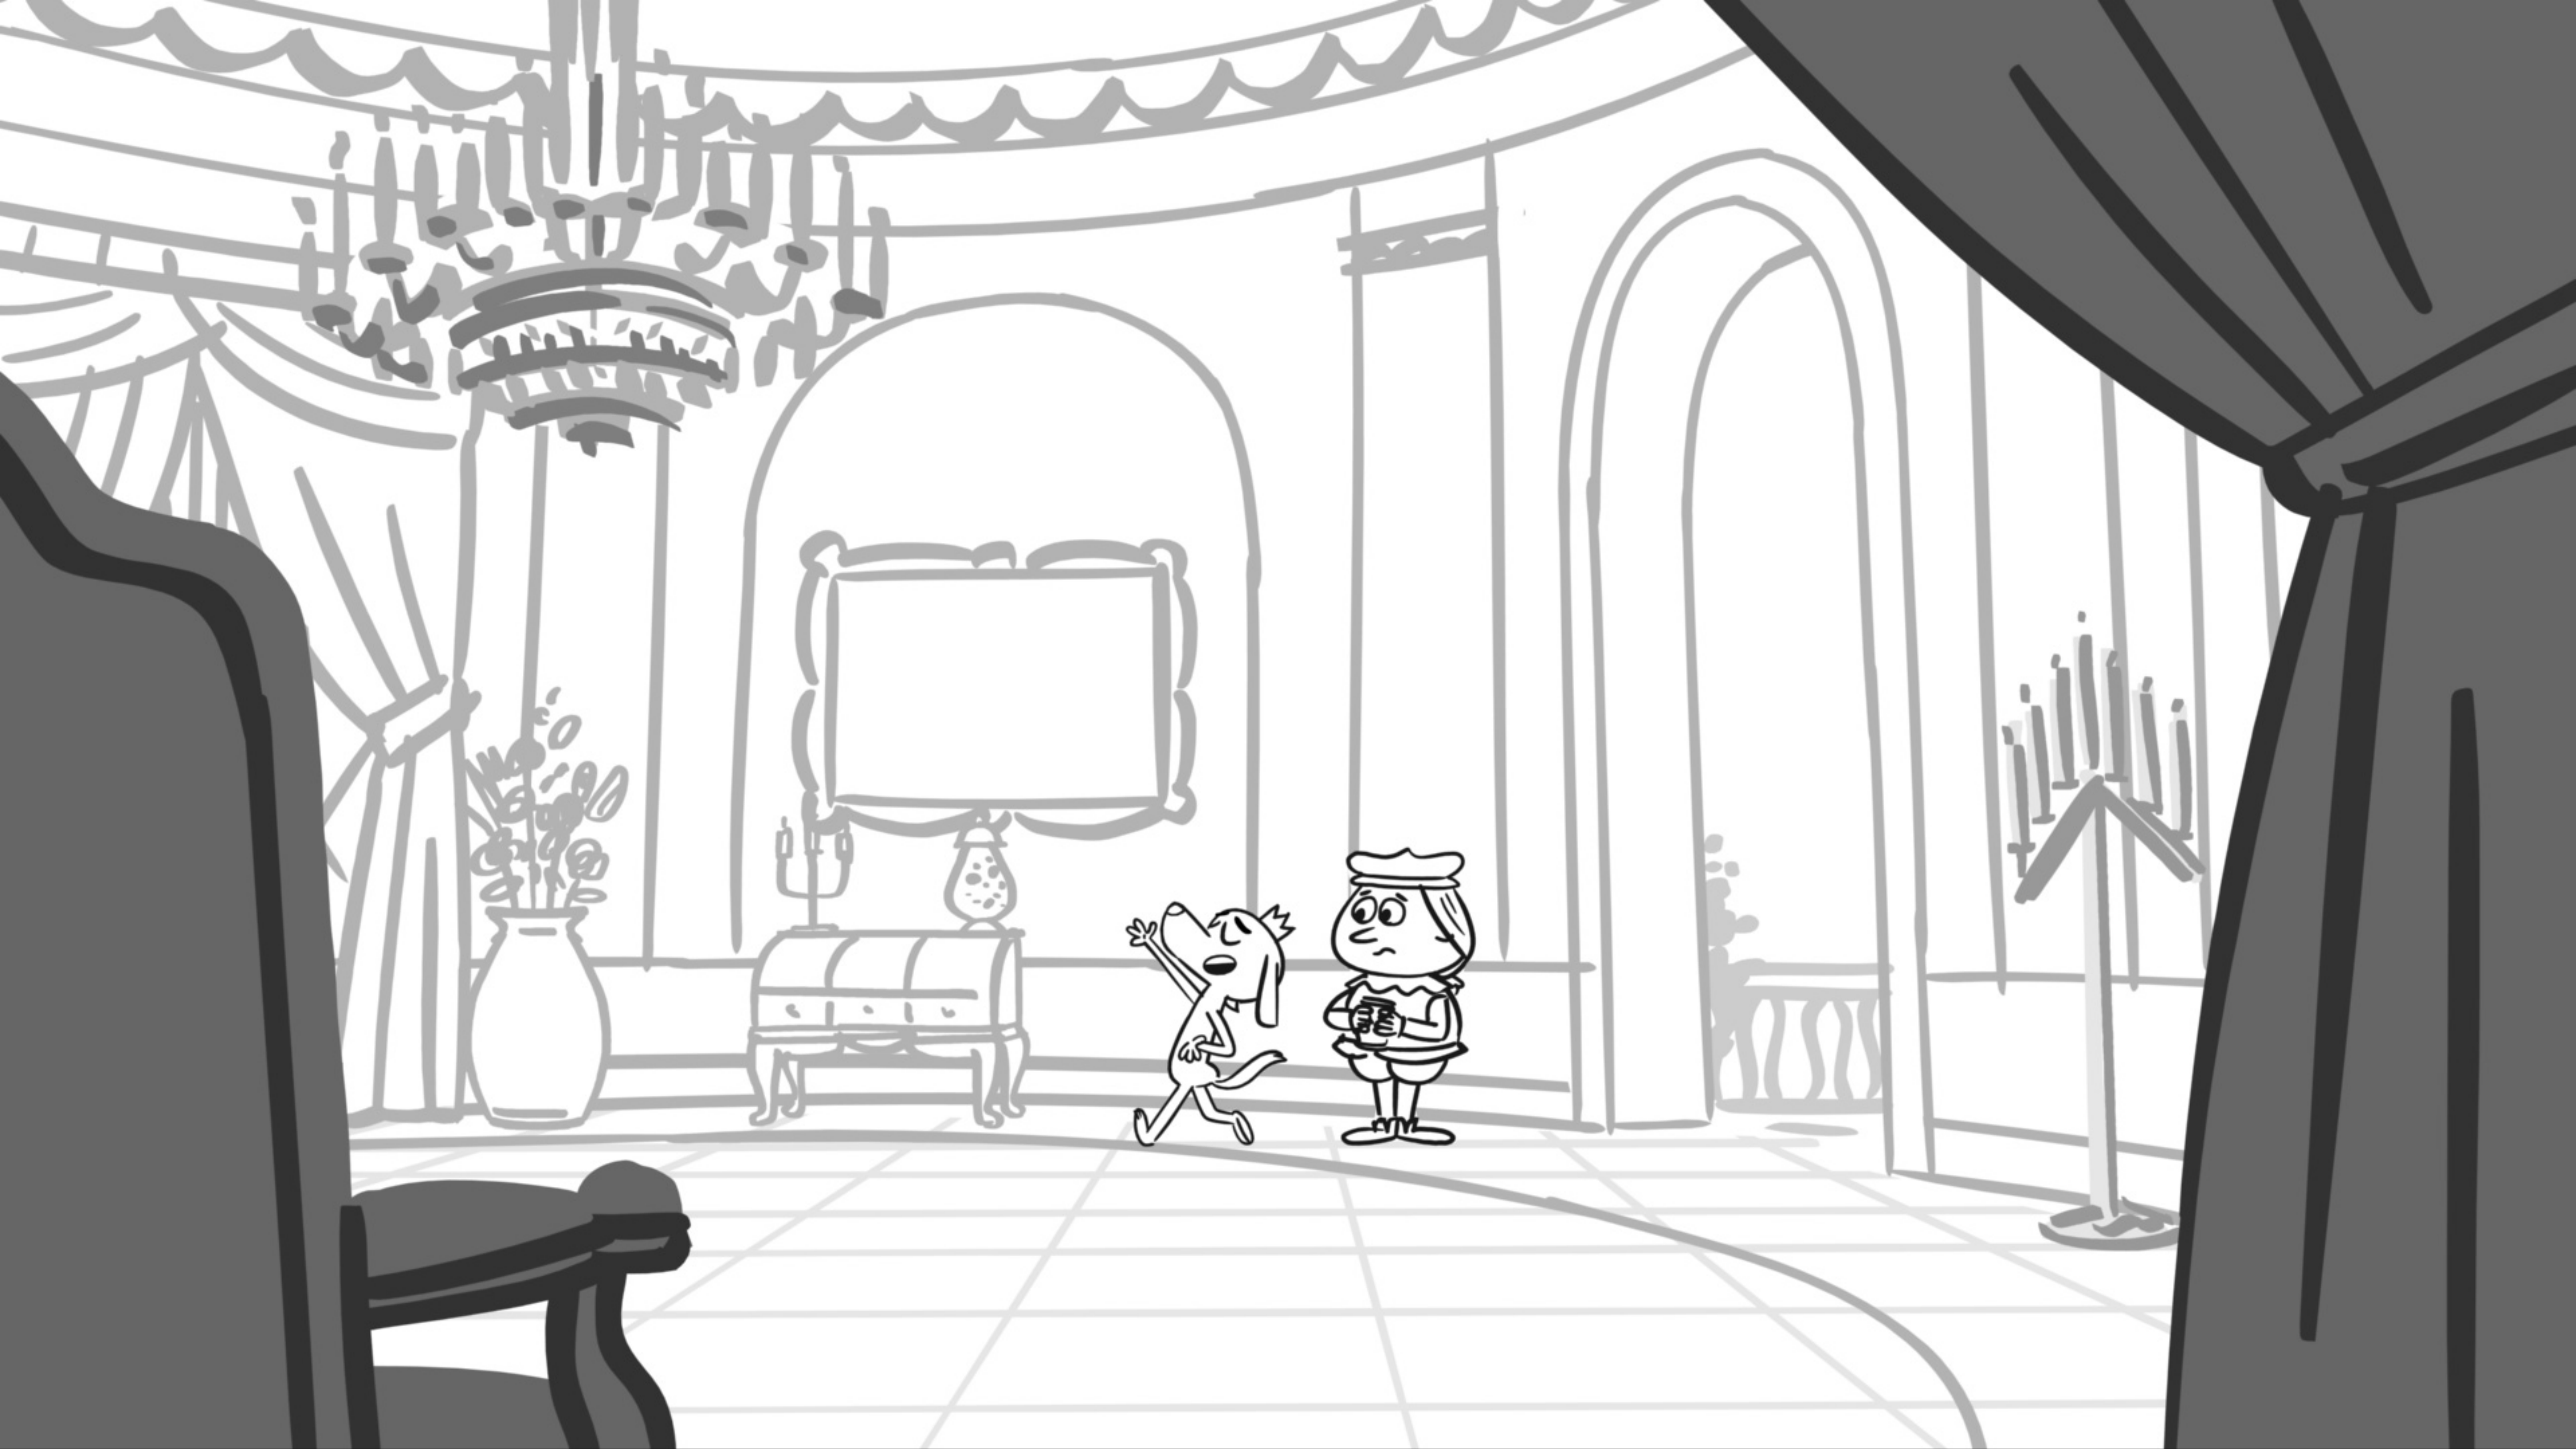

KING BARK: My walks are the best and most wonderful walks.

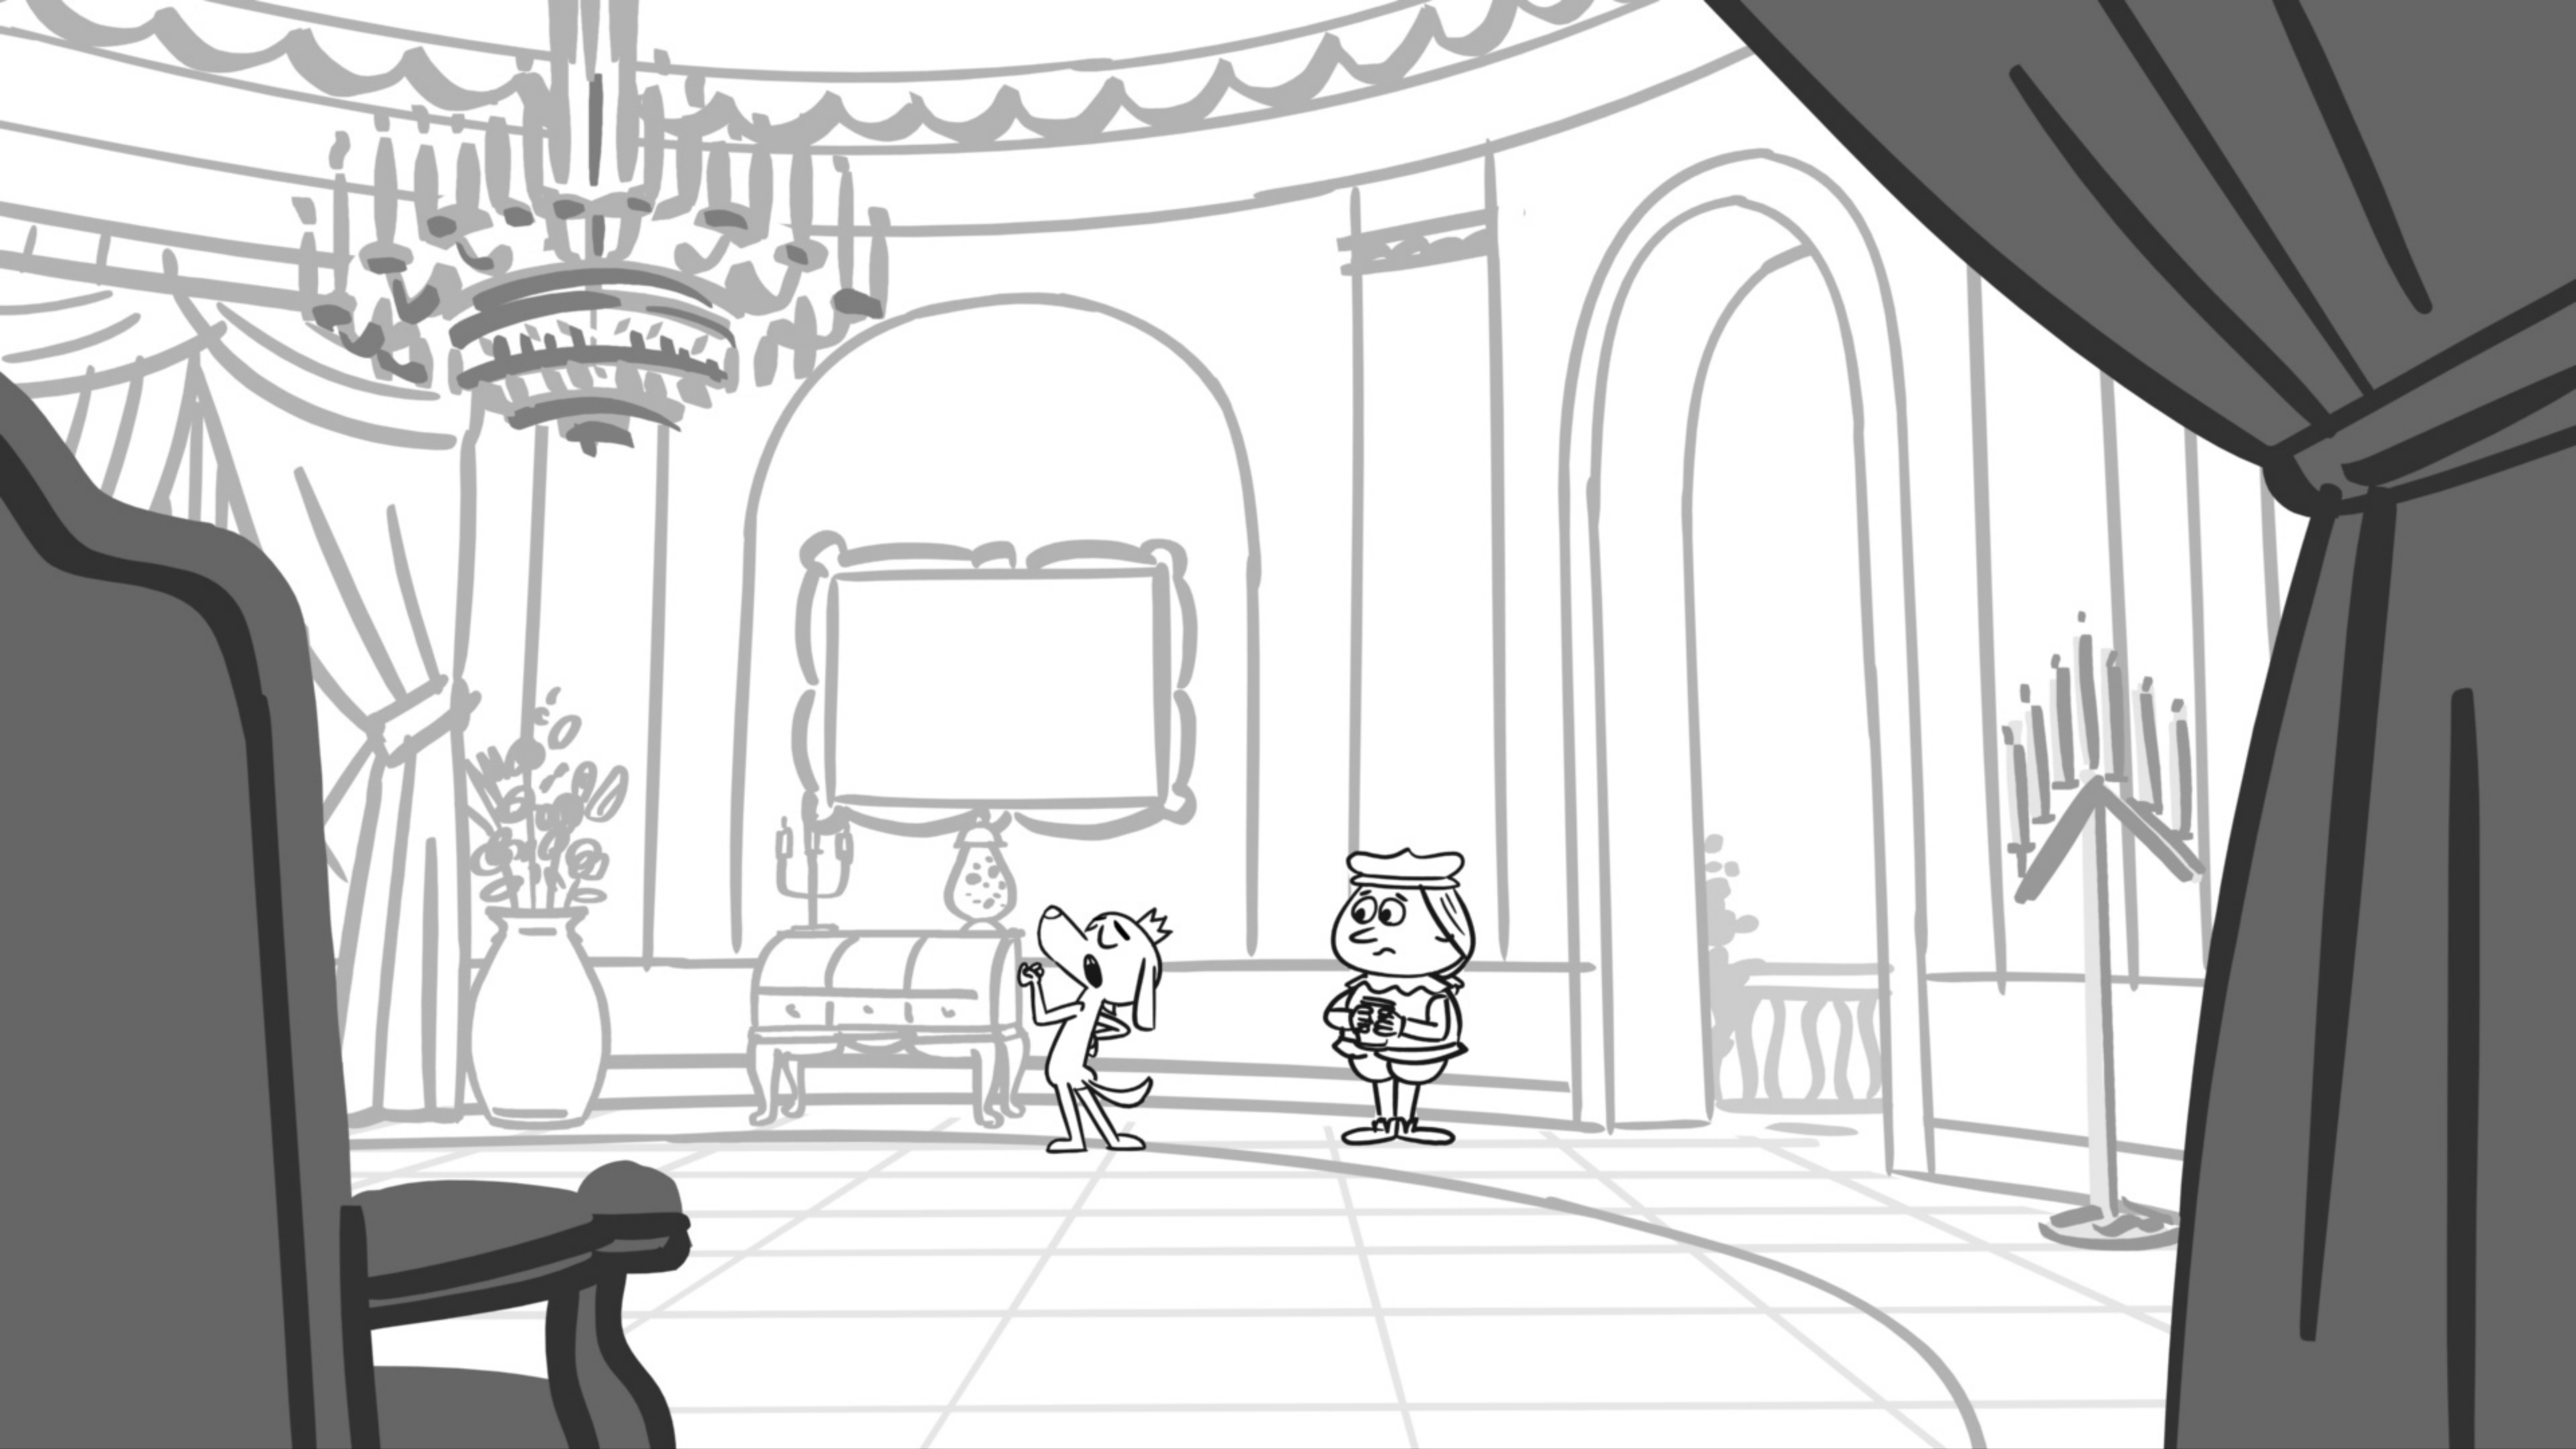

KING BARK: But what's the point of walking alone?

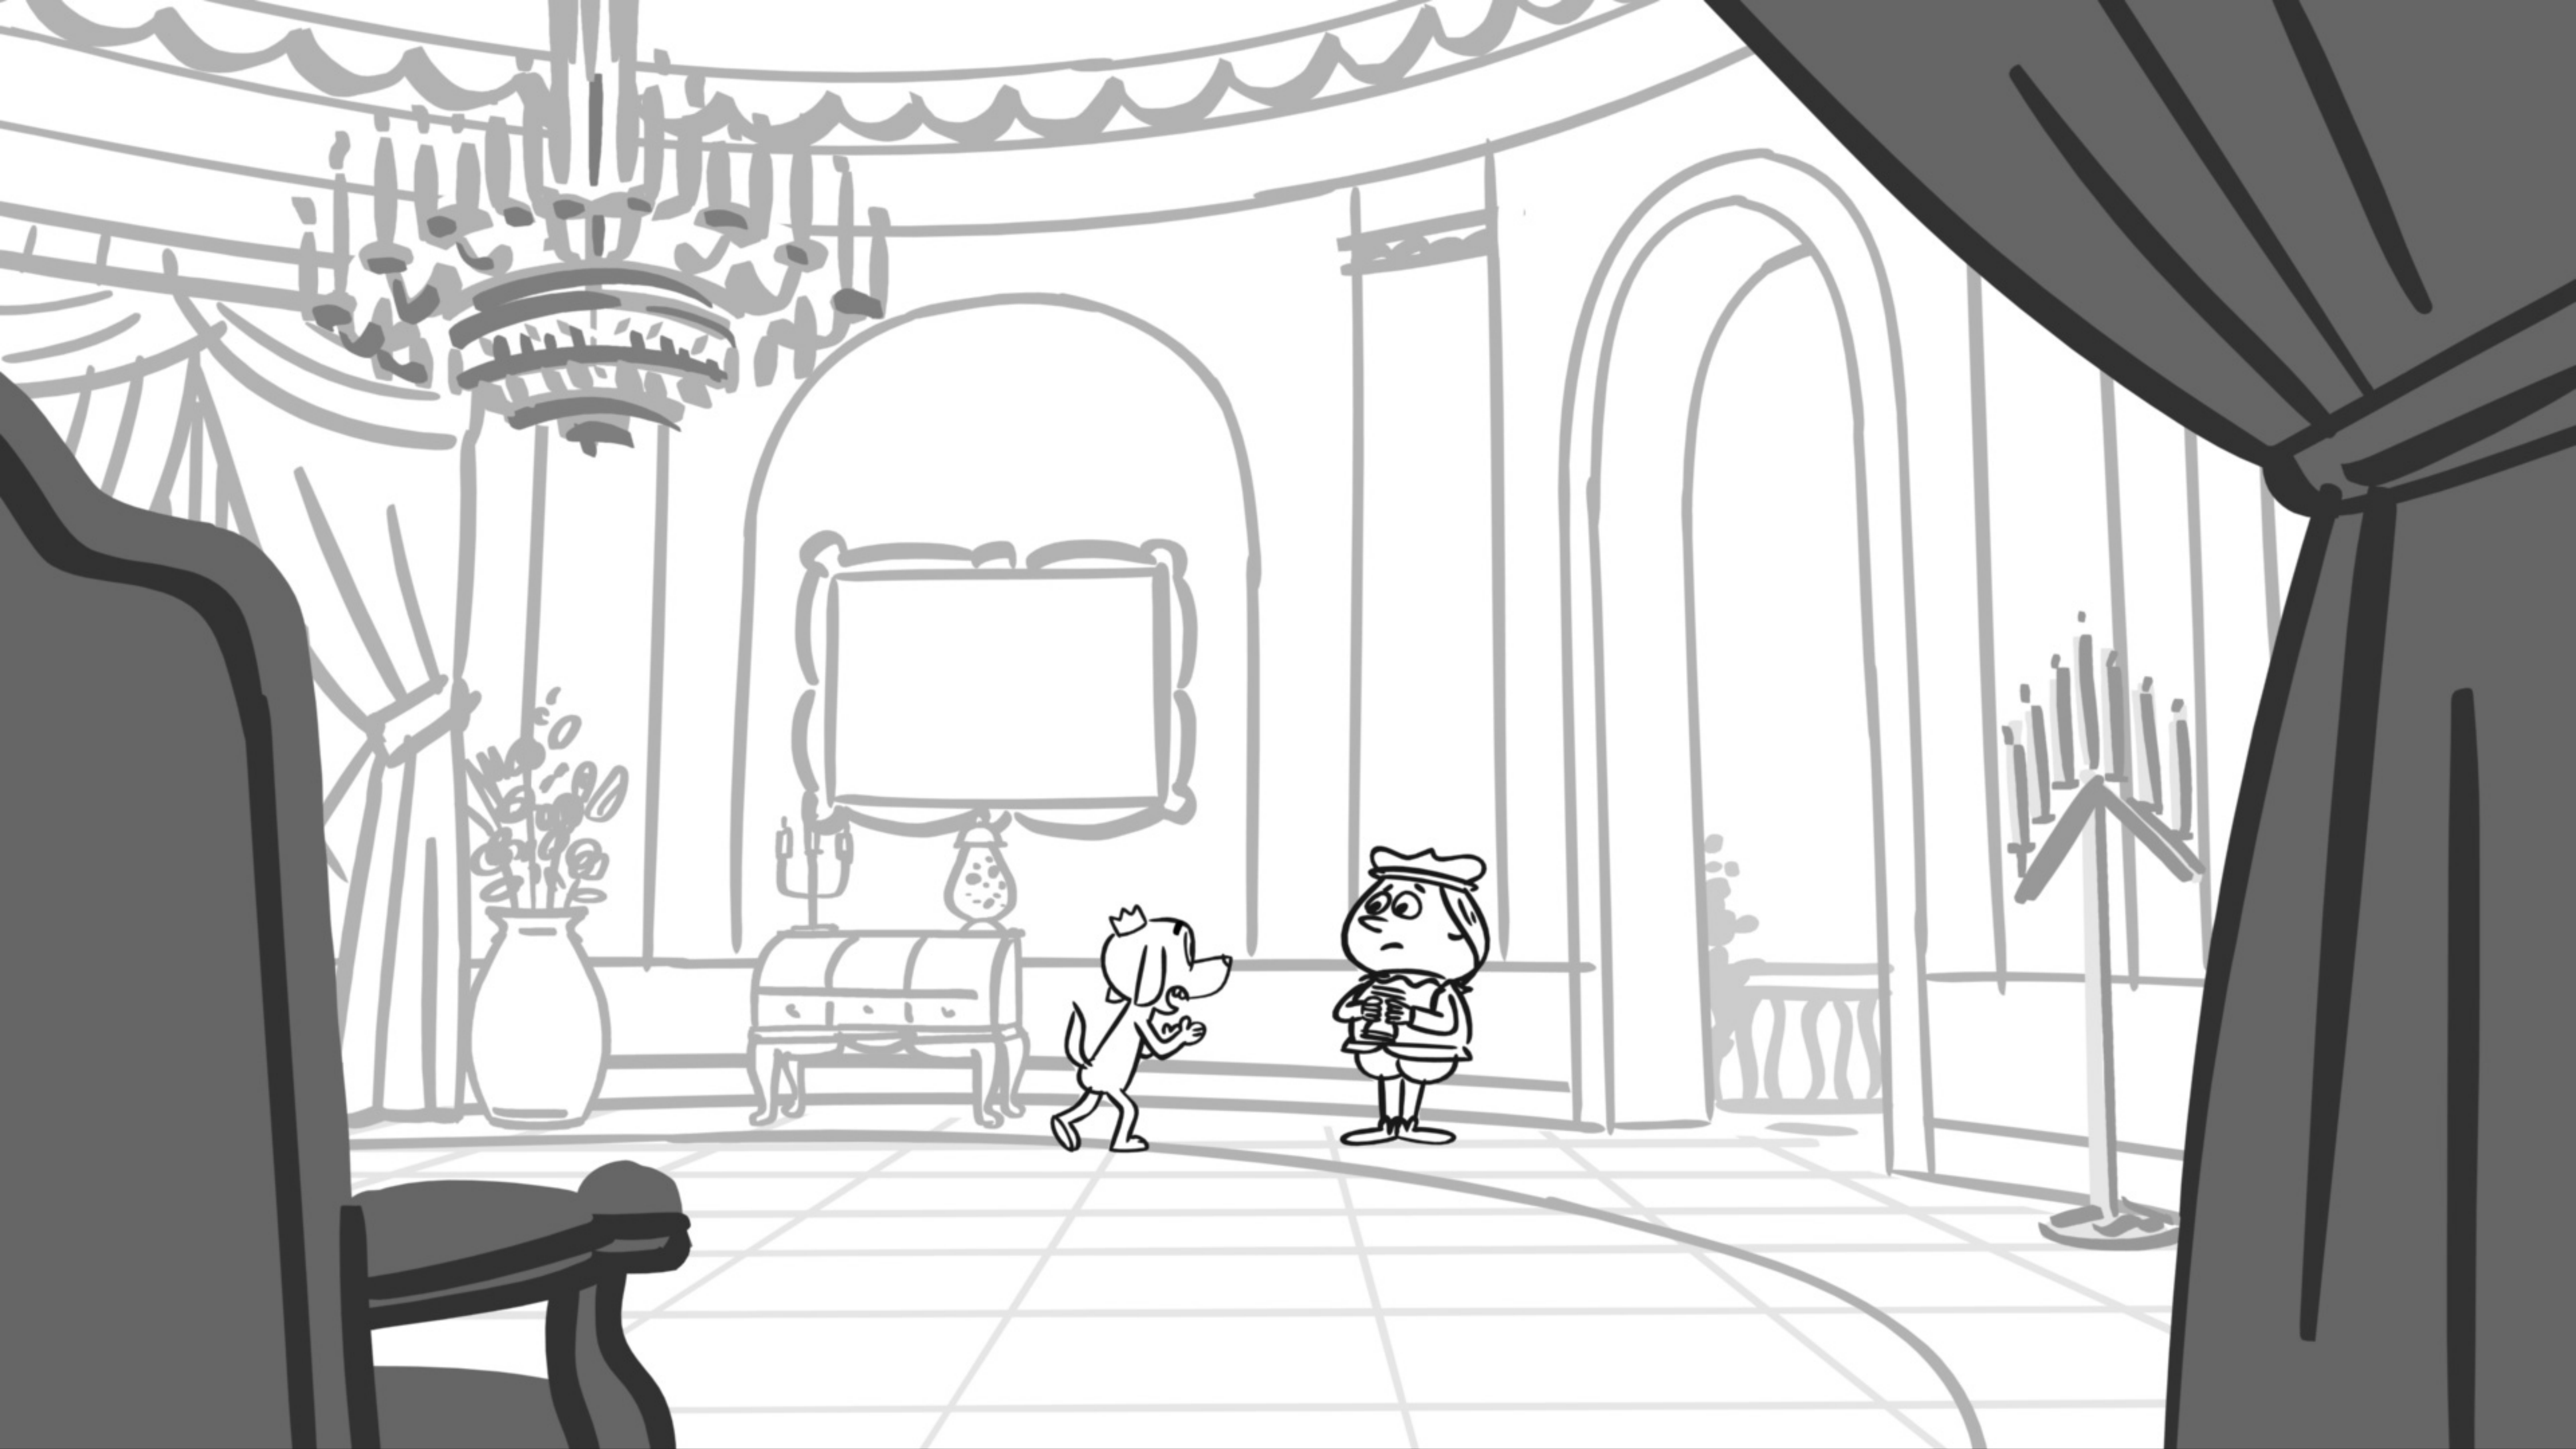

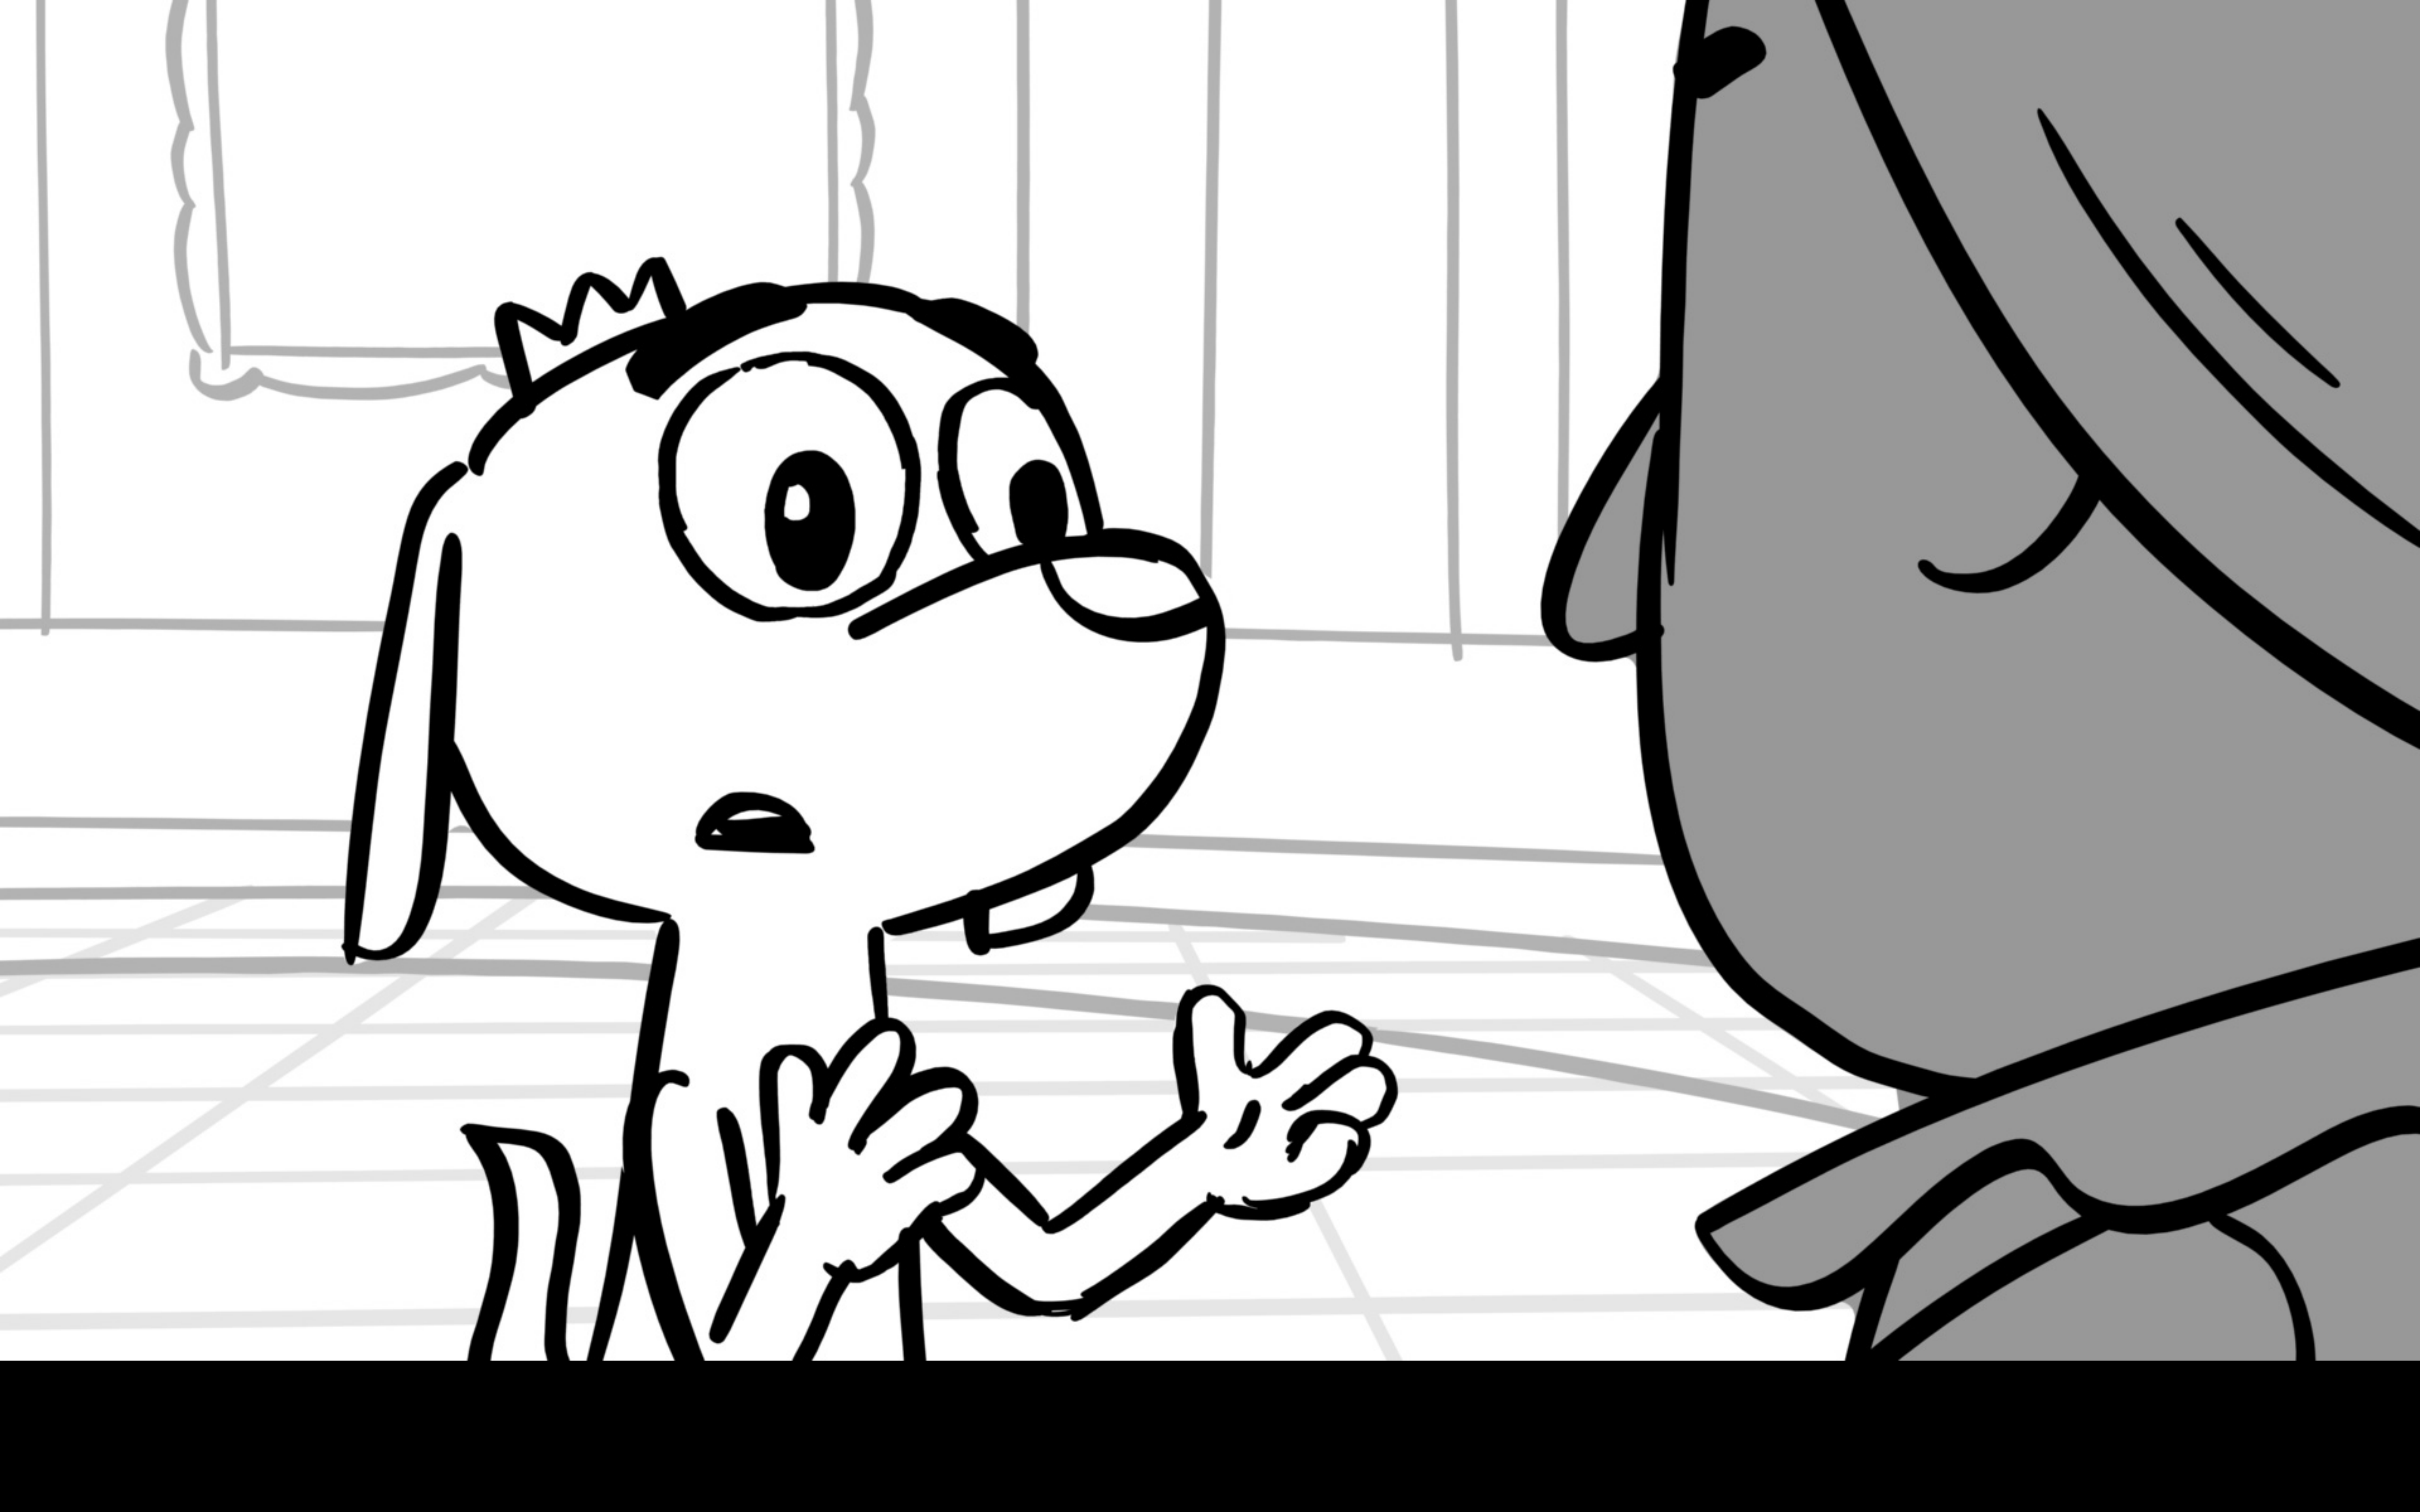

KING BARK: It is cruel

KING BARK: to have the best things

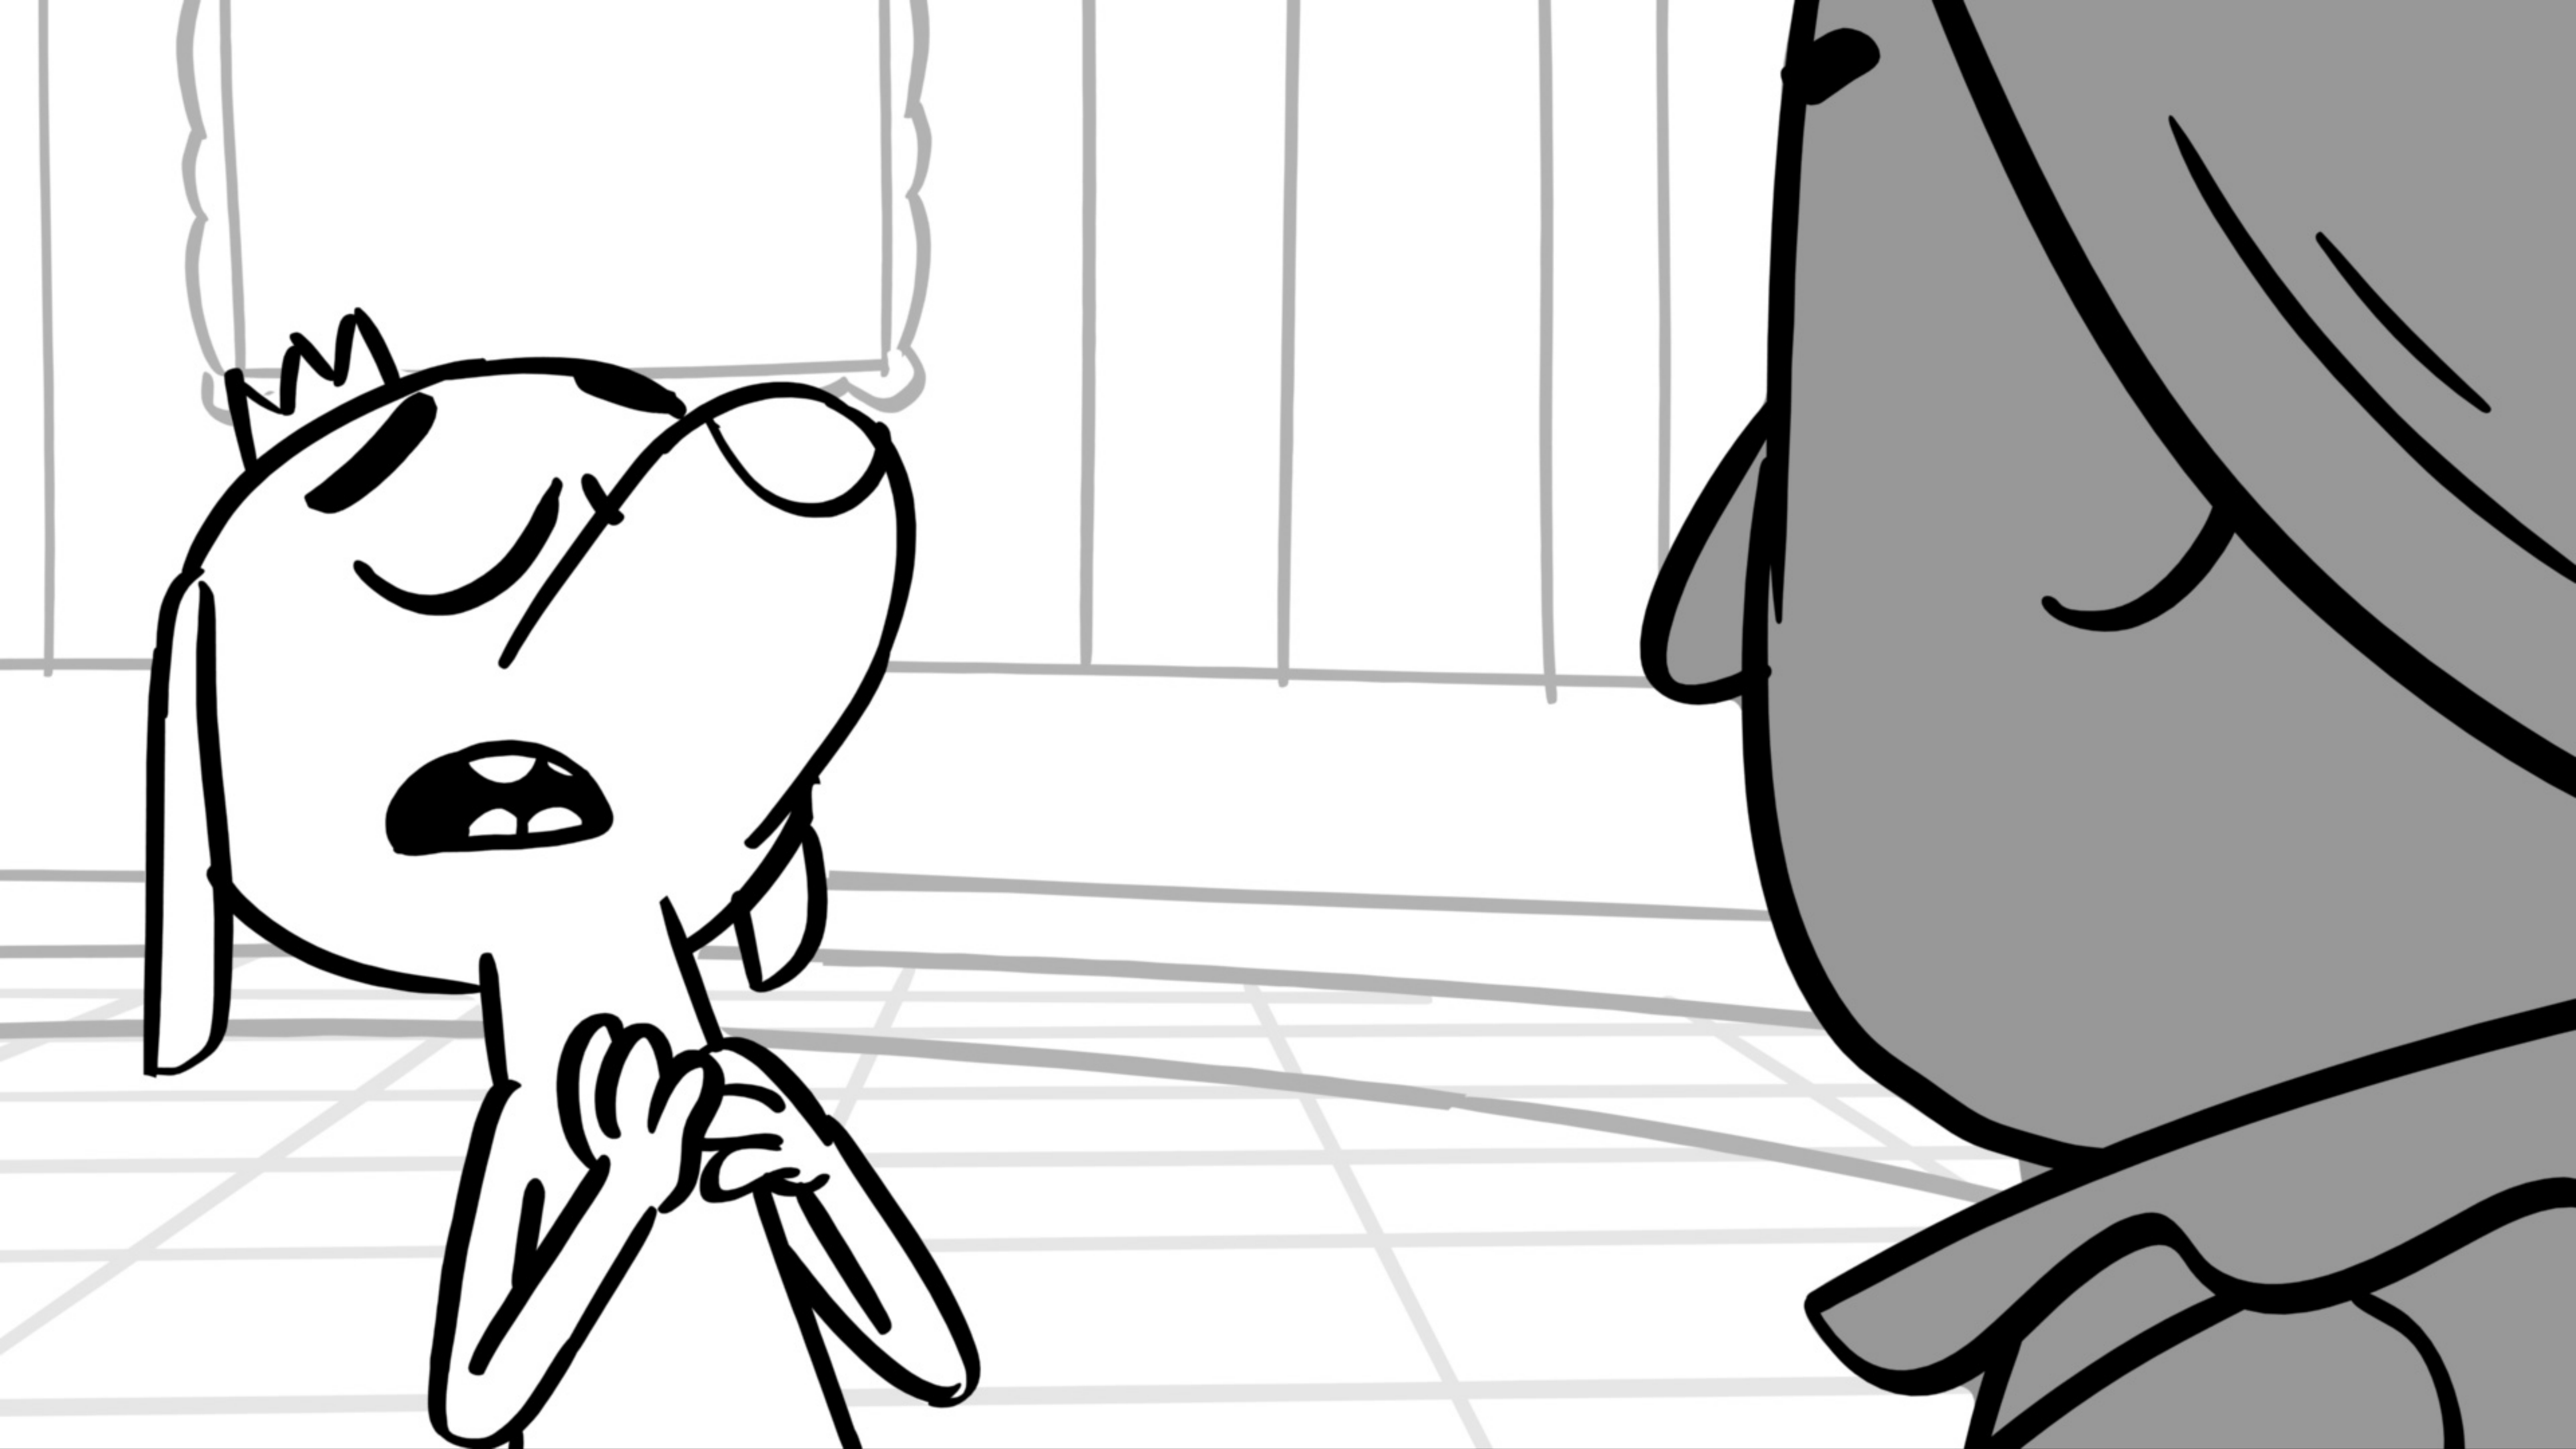

KING BARK: but have no one to share it with.

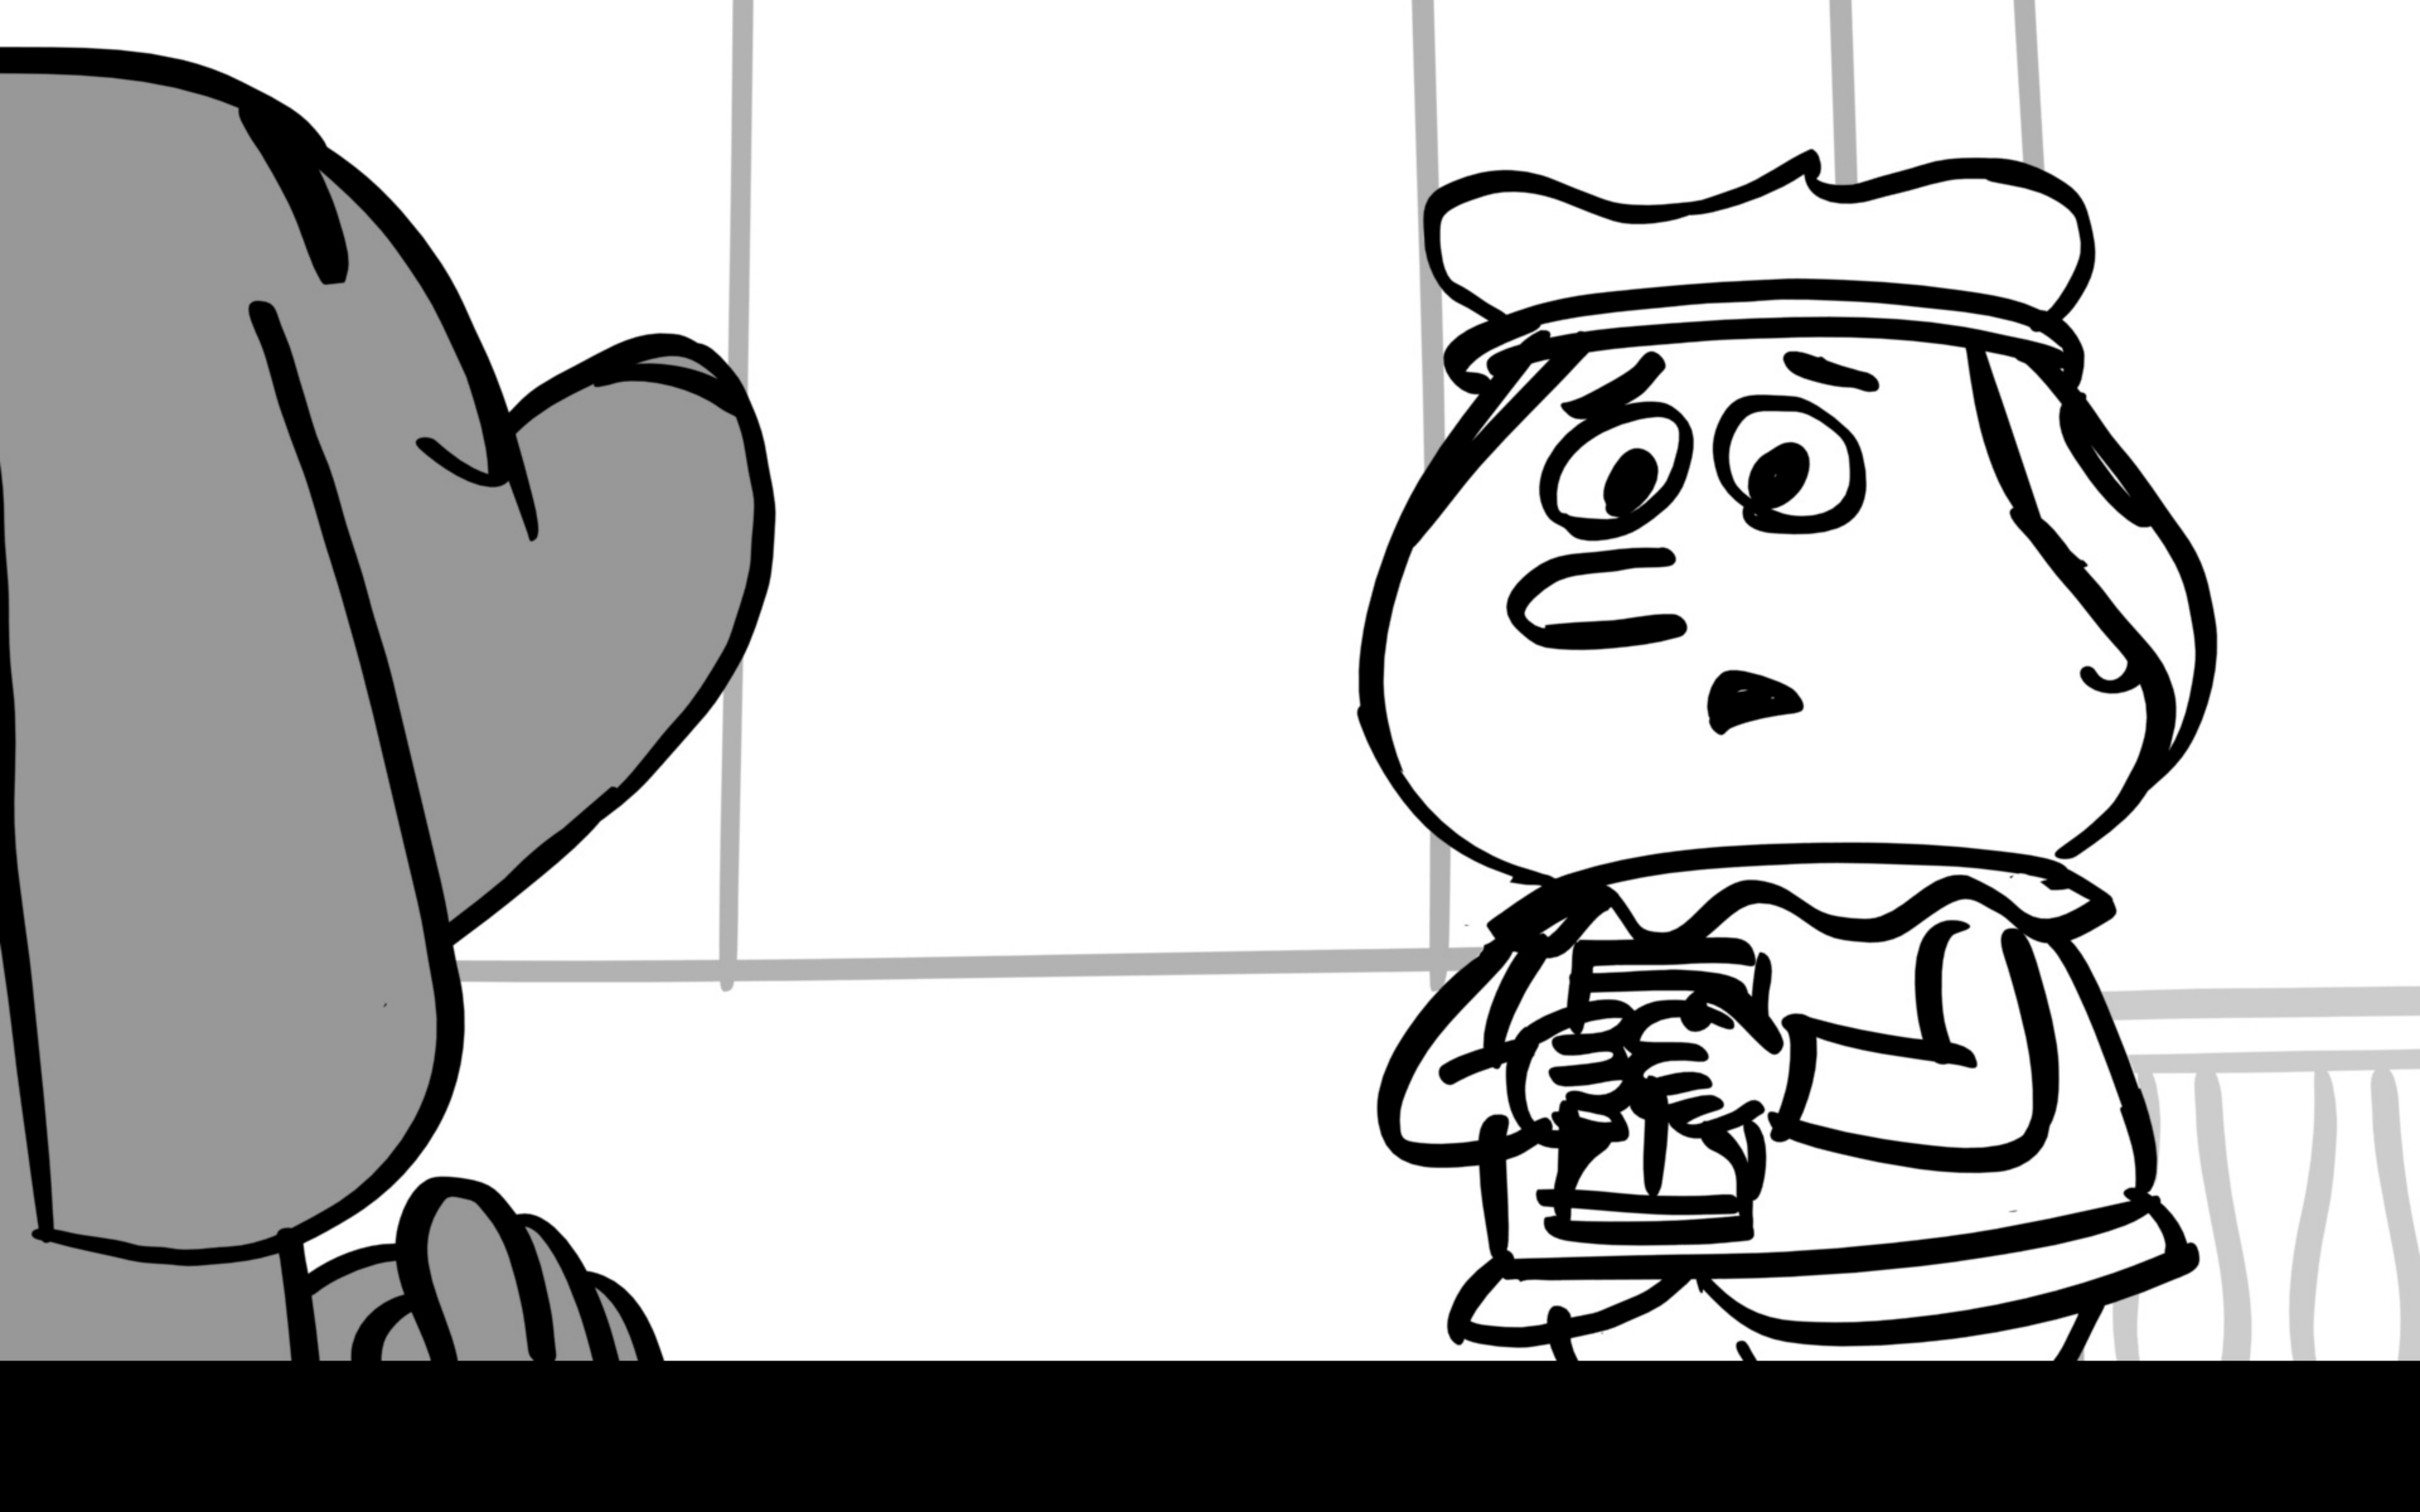

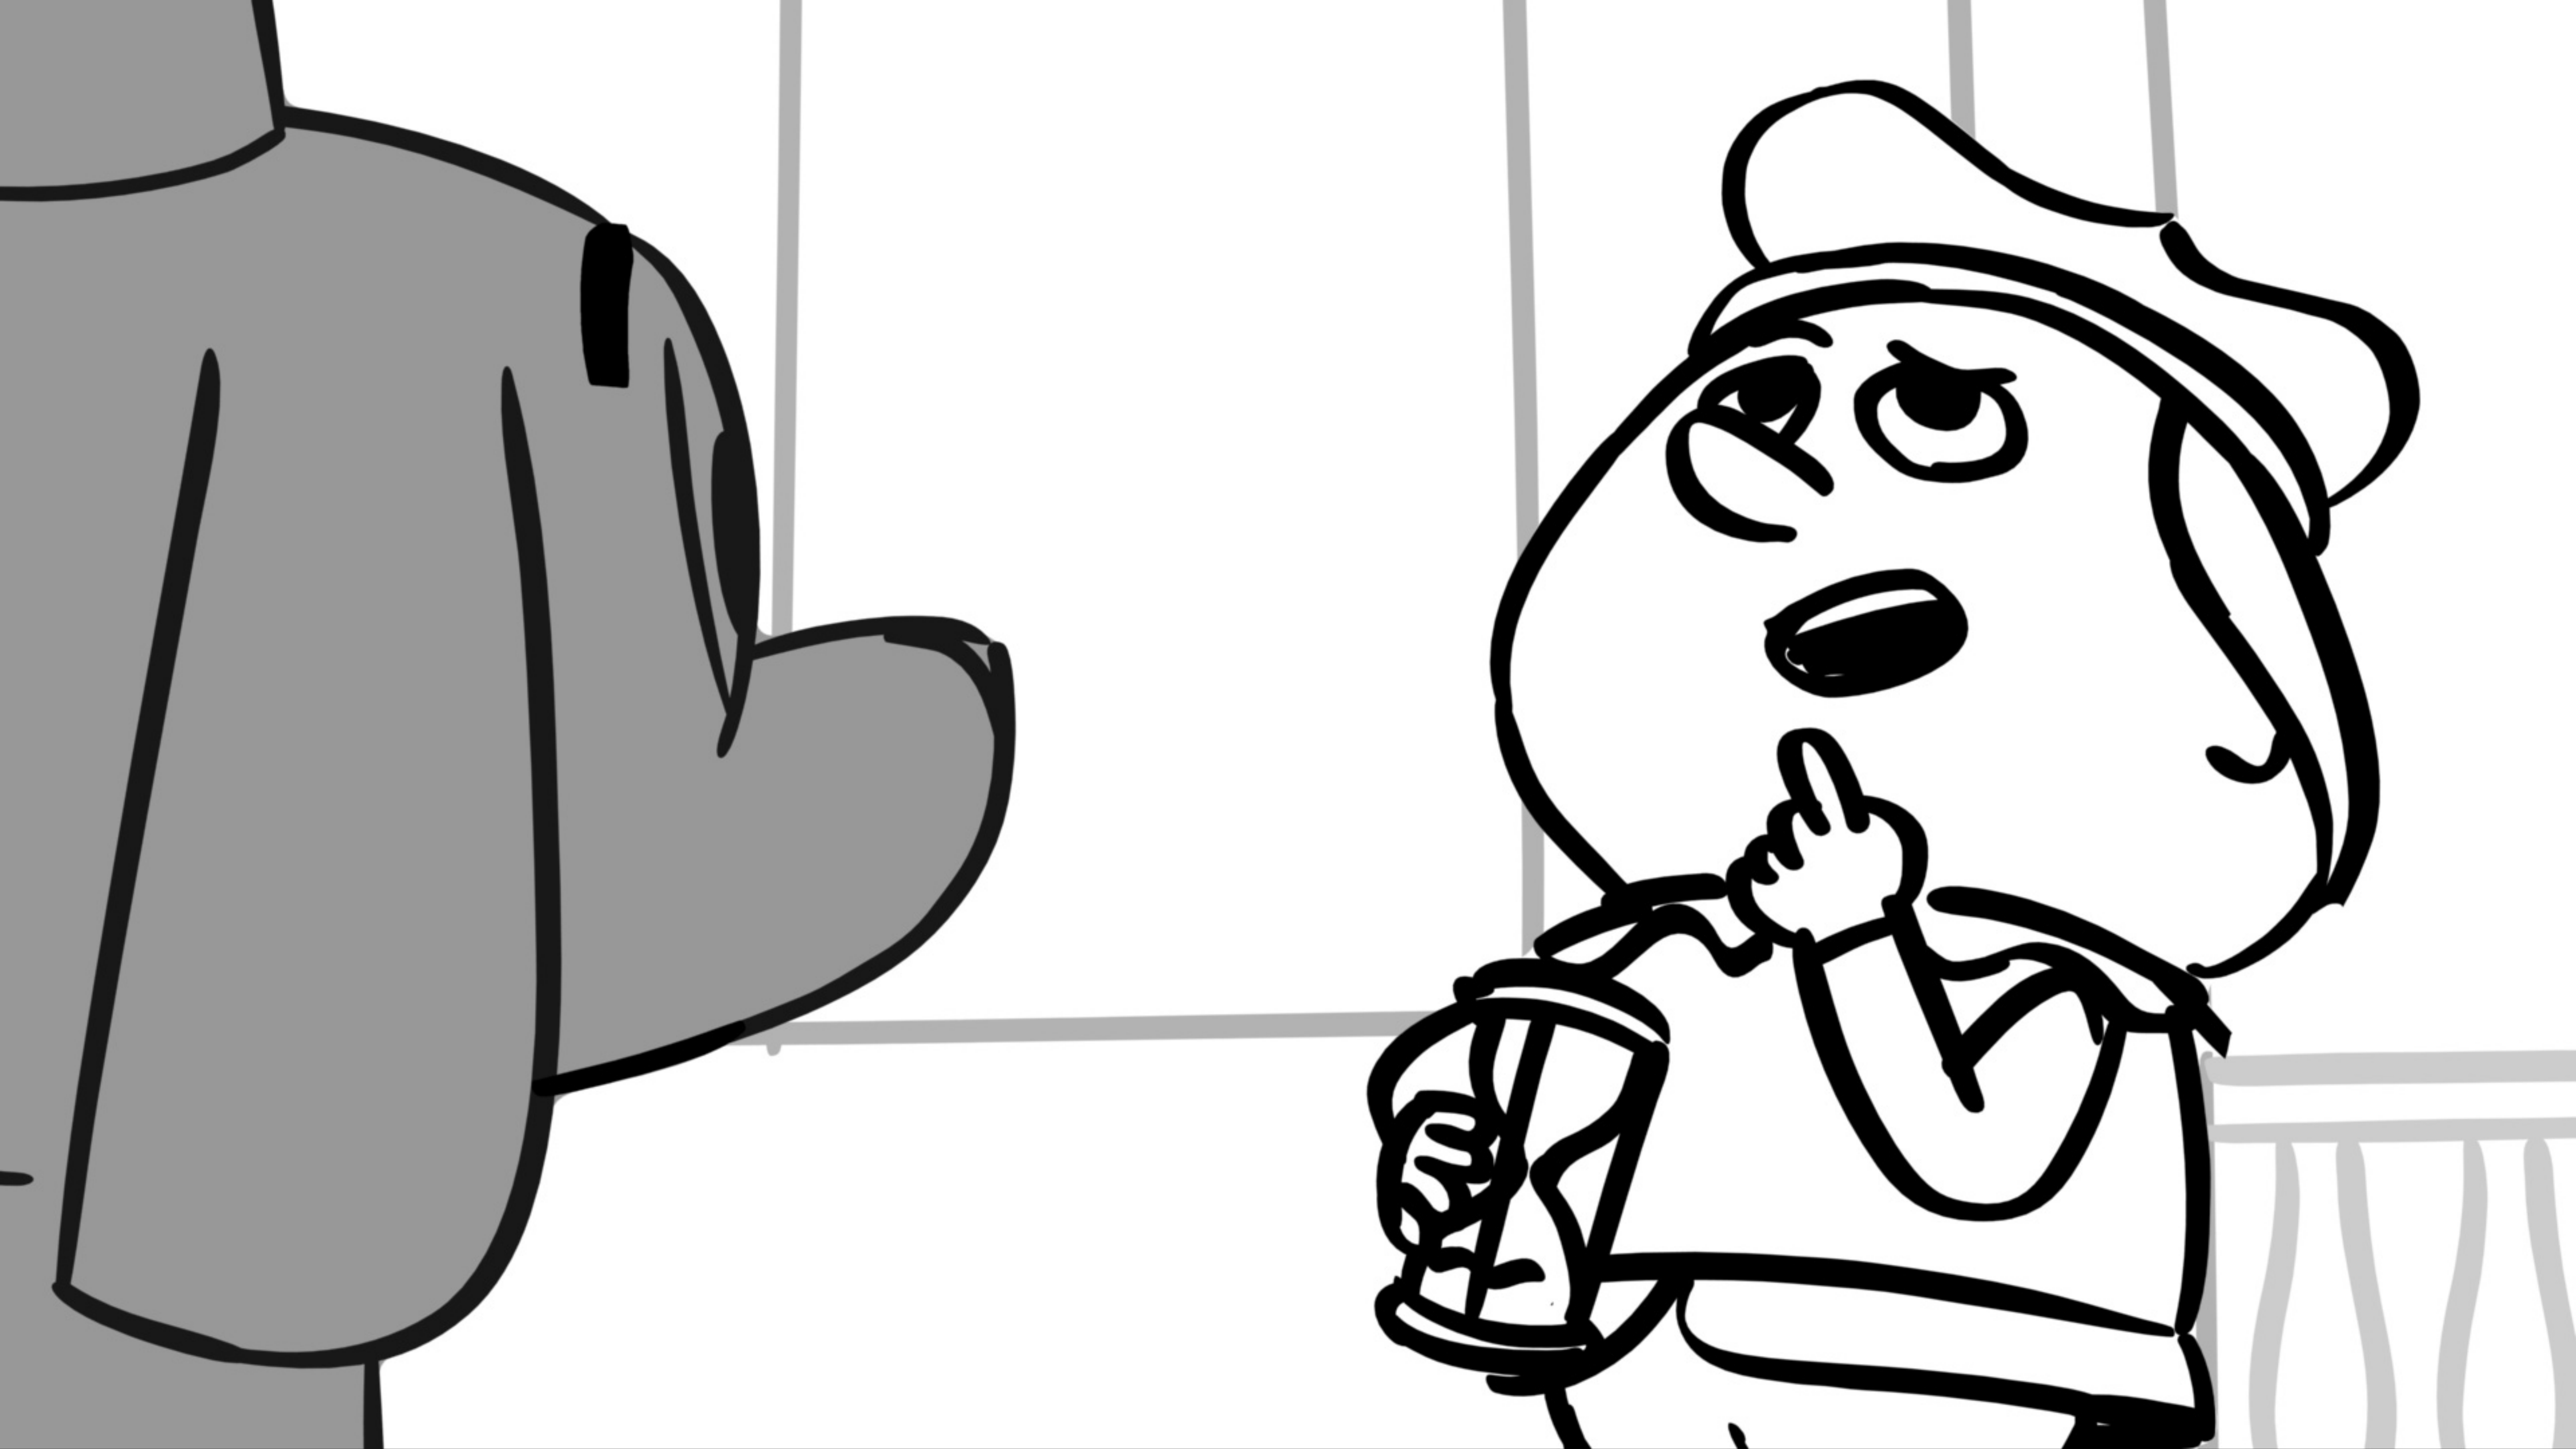

KING BARK: It is time for me to find a queen.

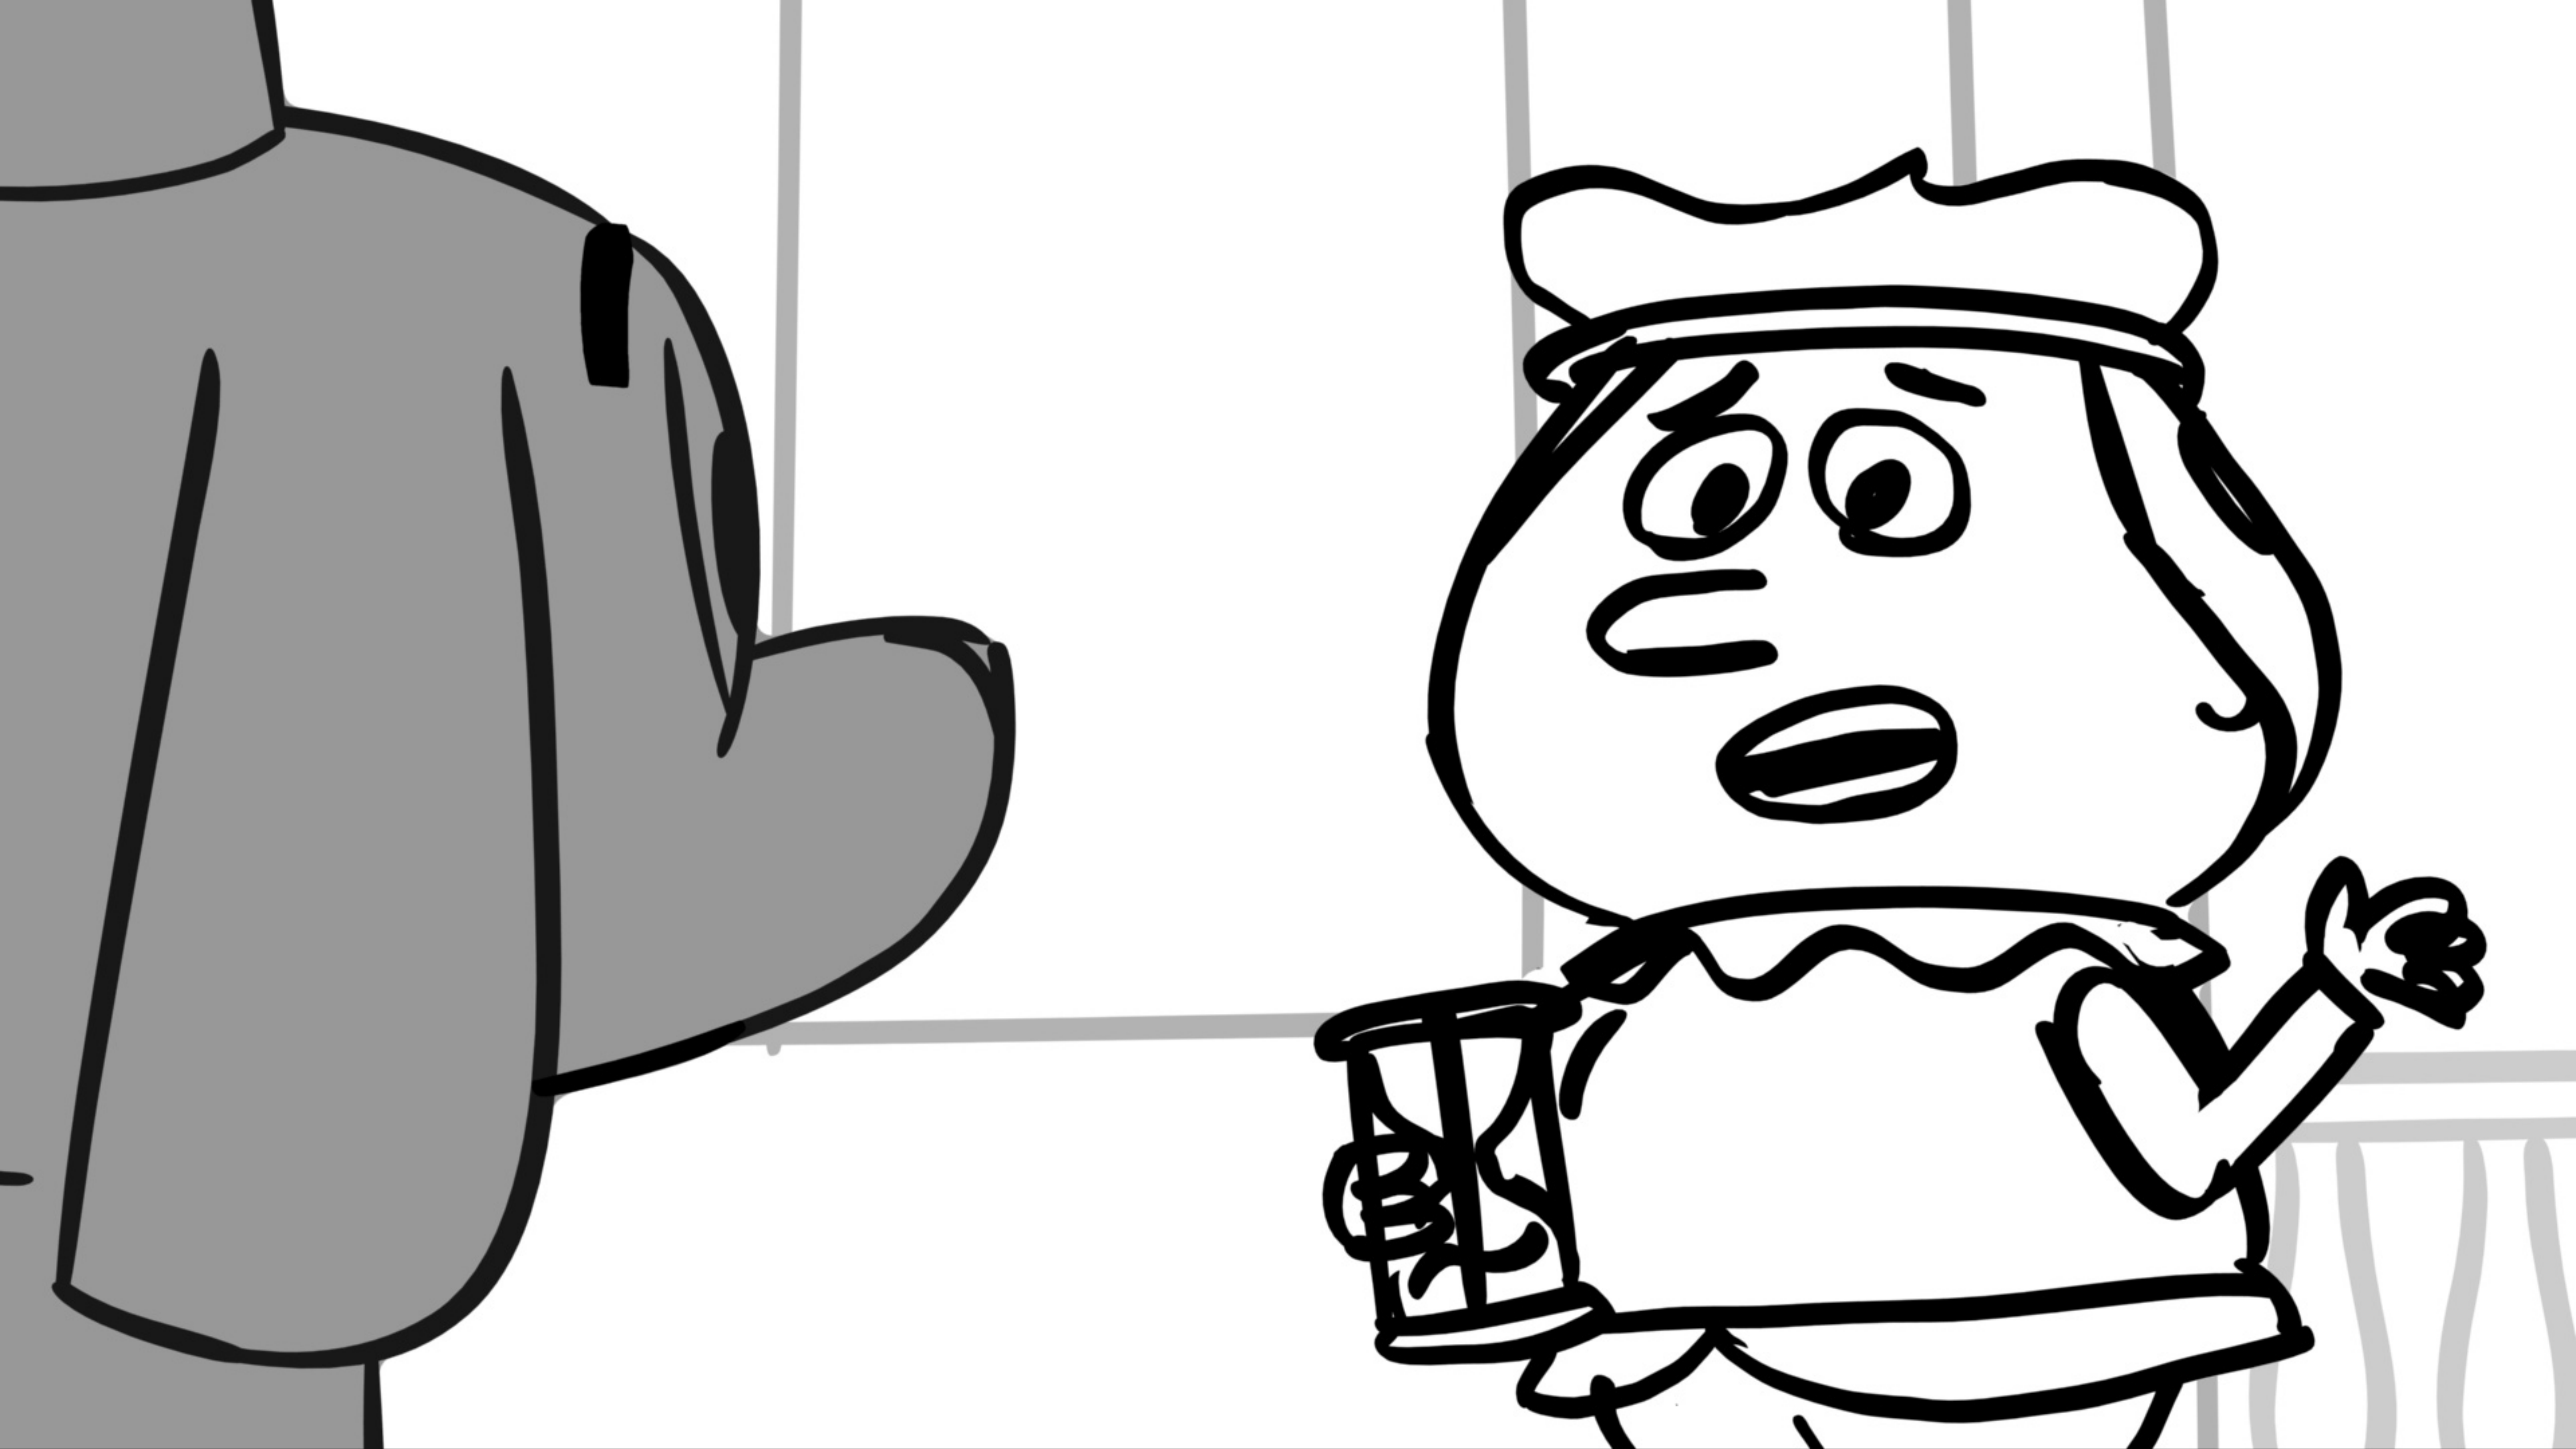

KING BARK: But how can I find true love?

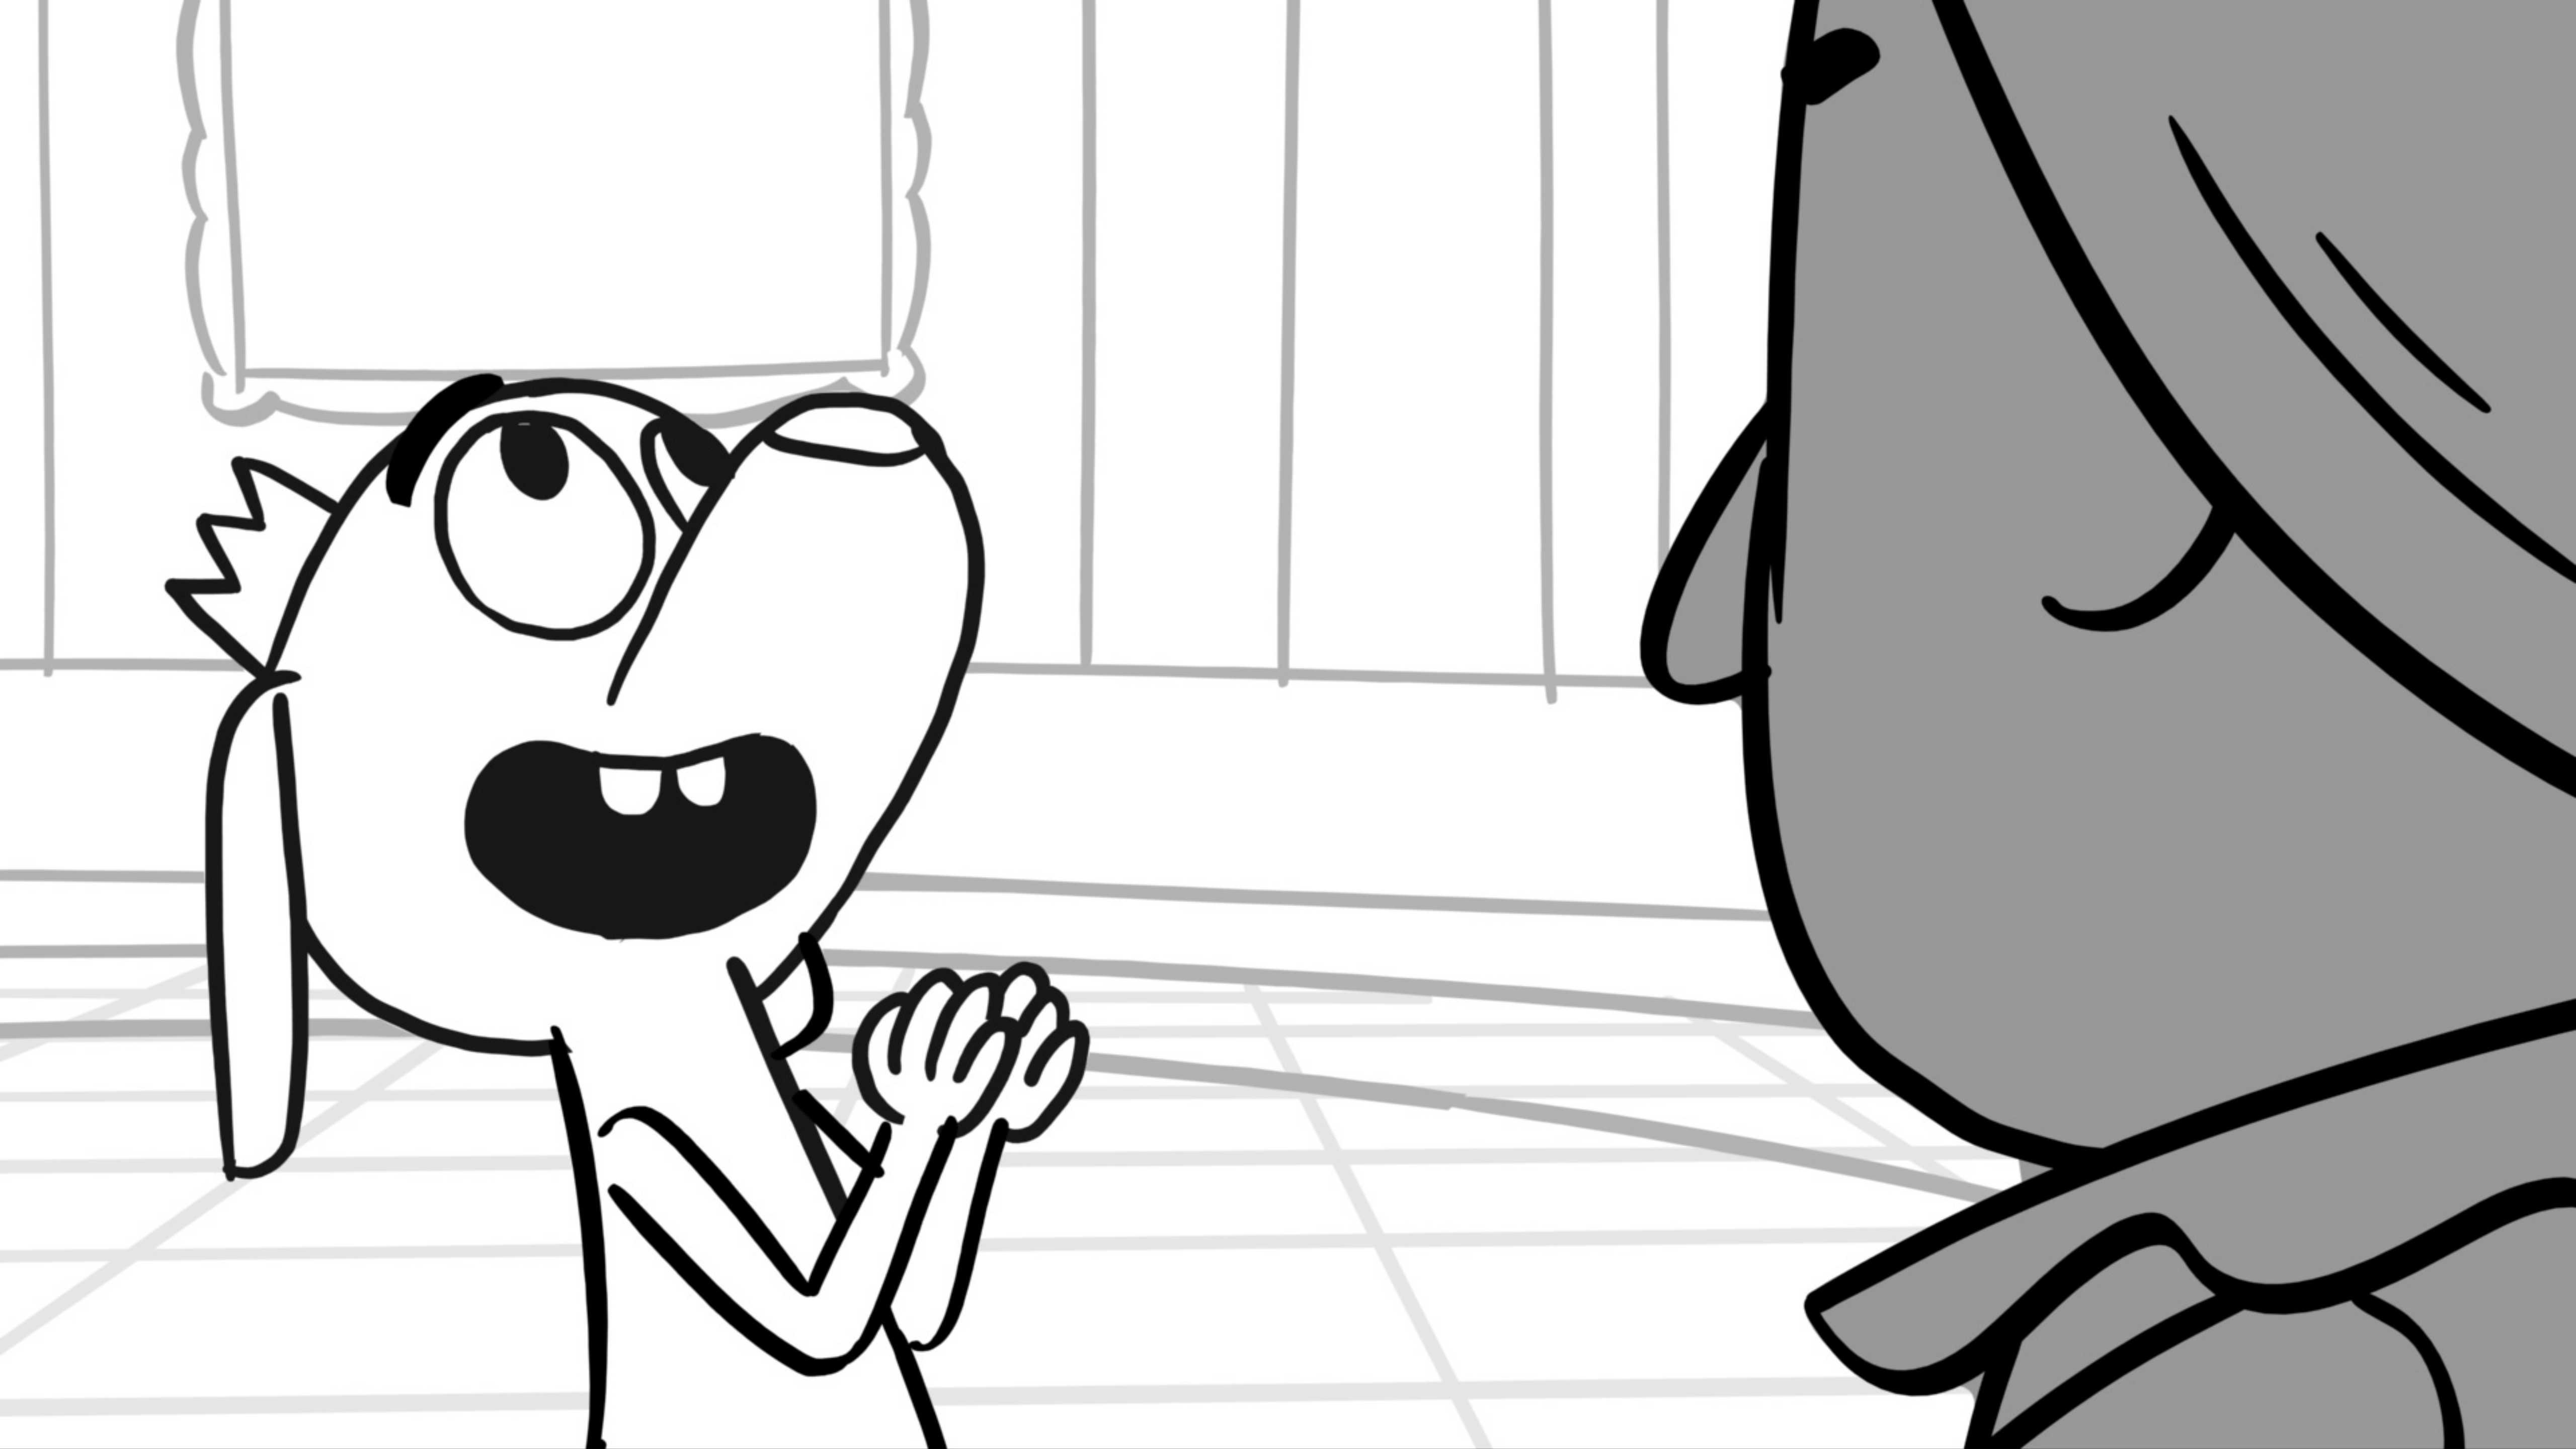

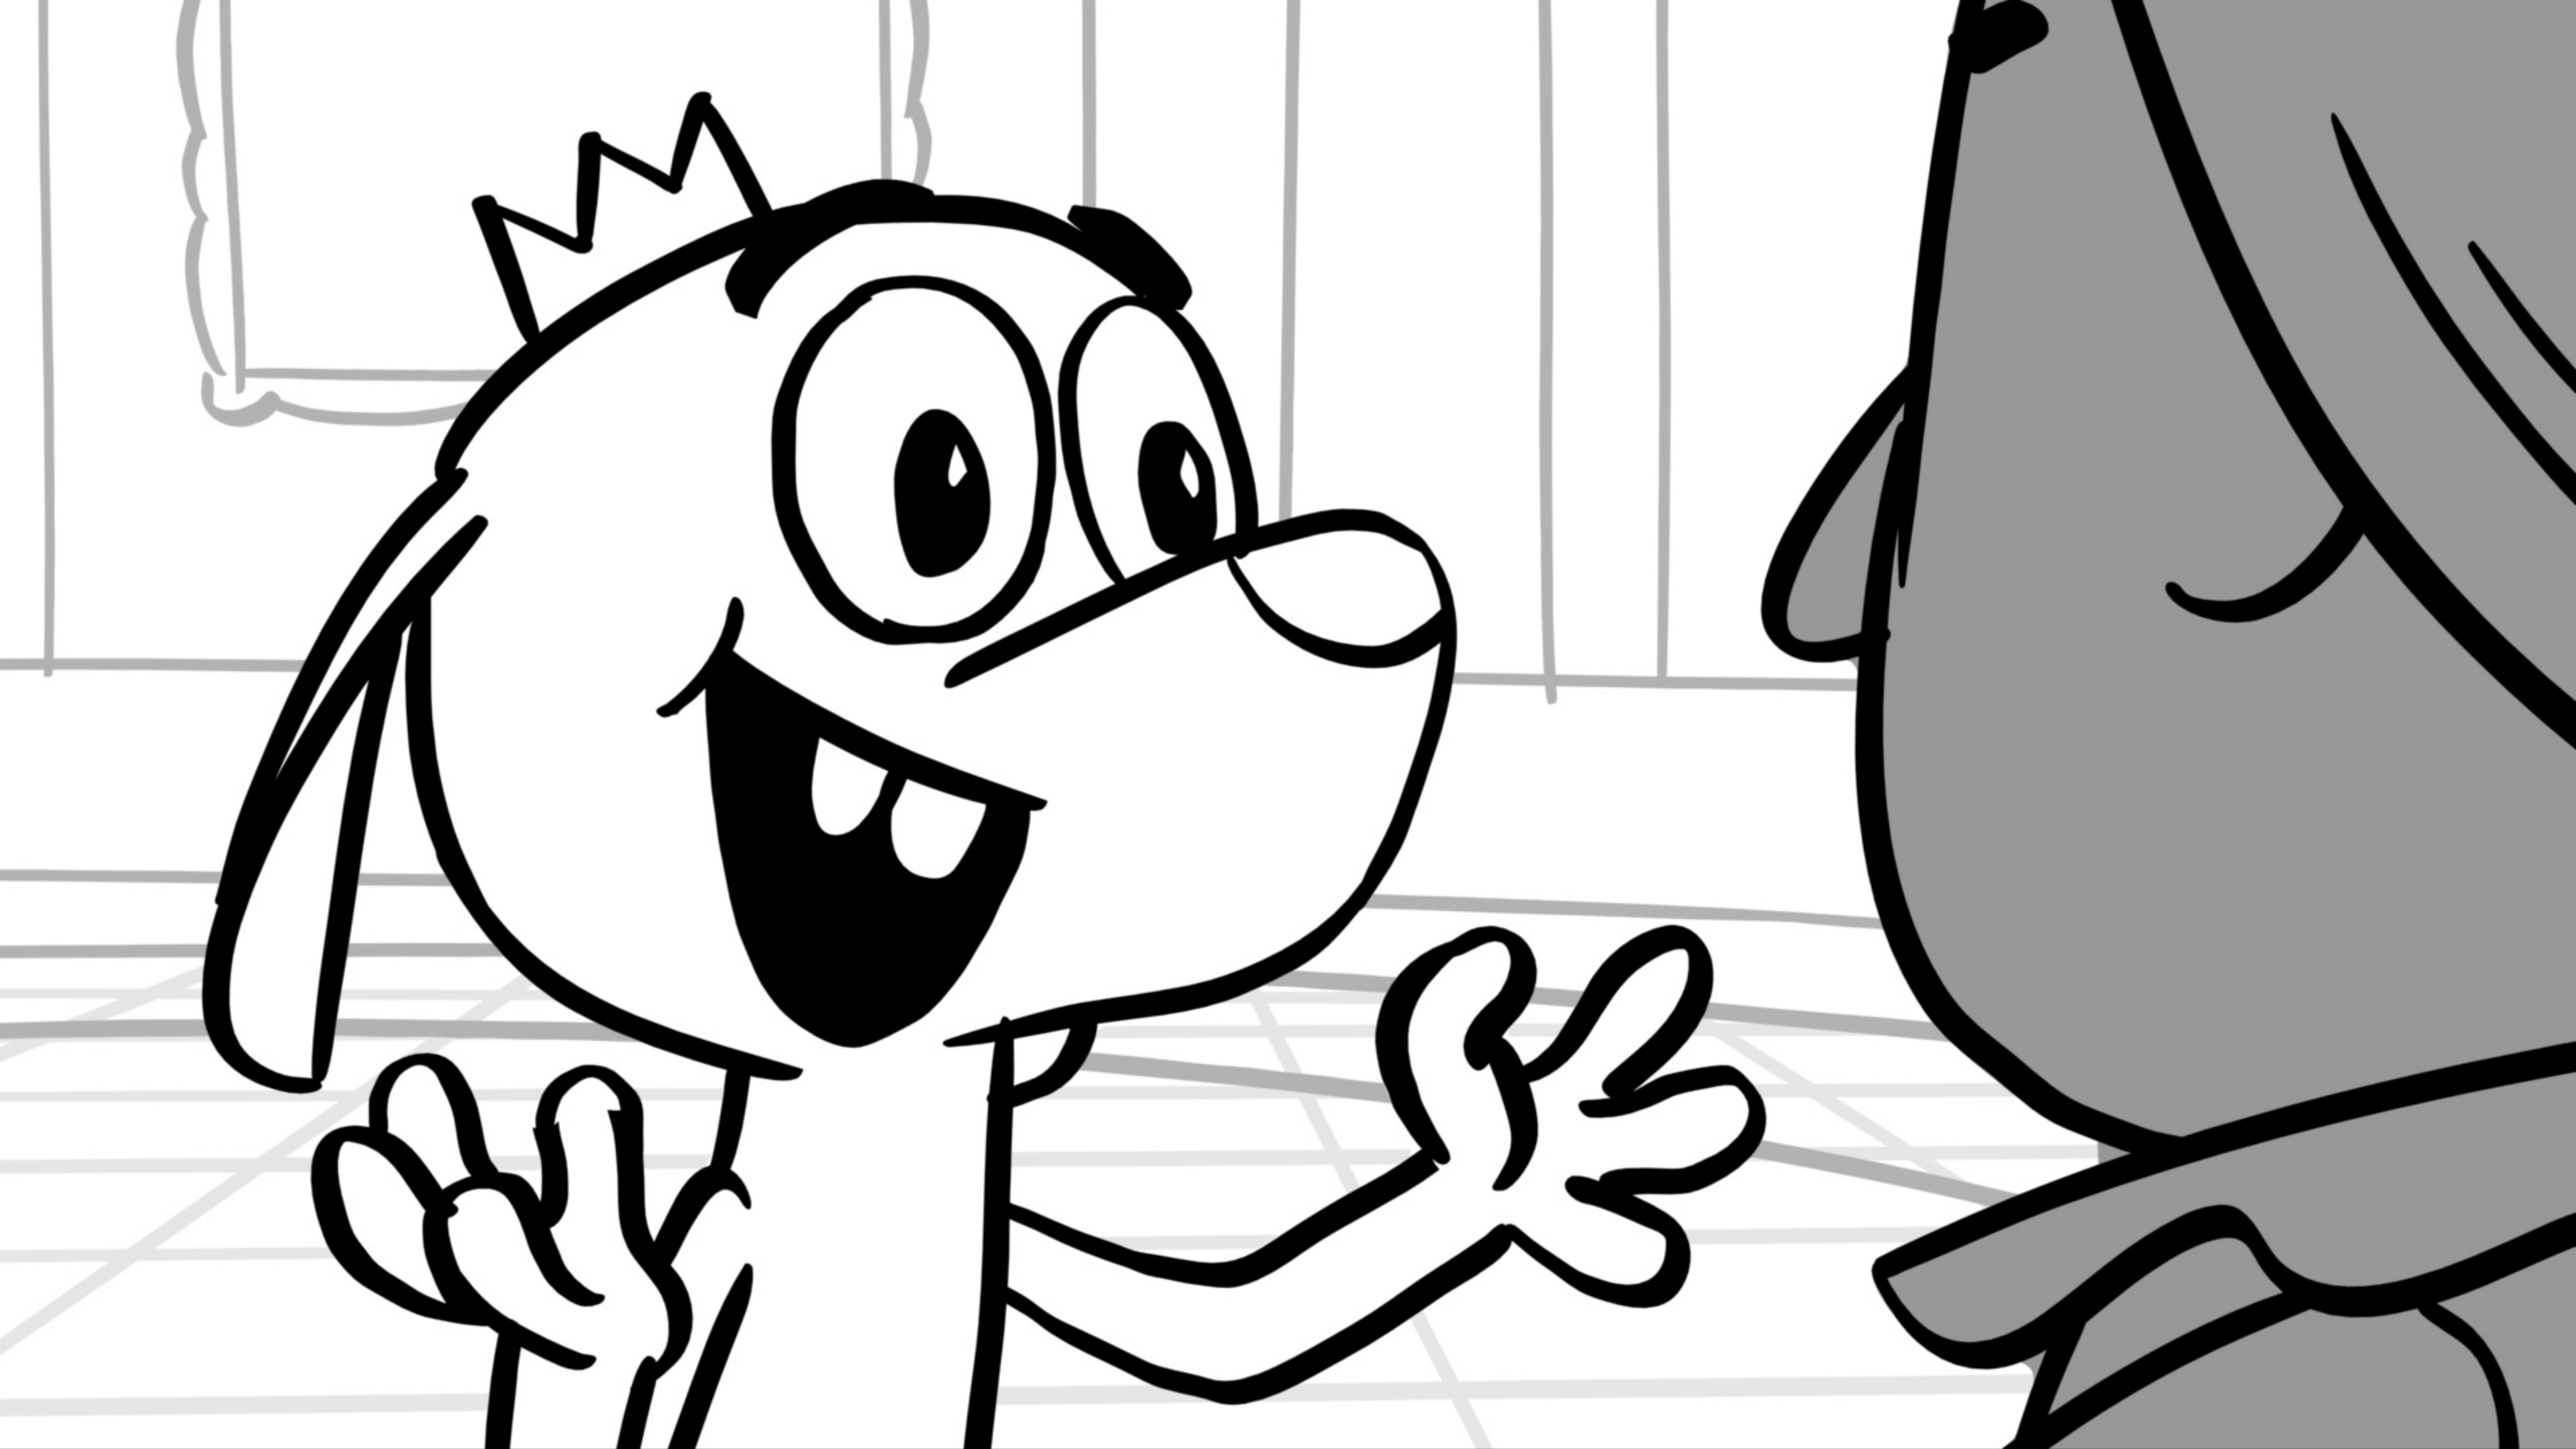

PAT: Perhaps we could have

PAT: a contest...

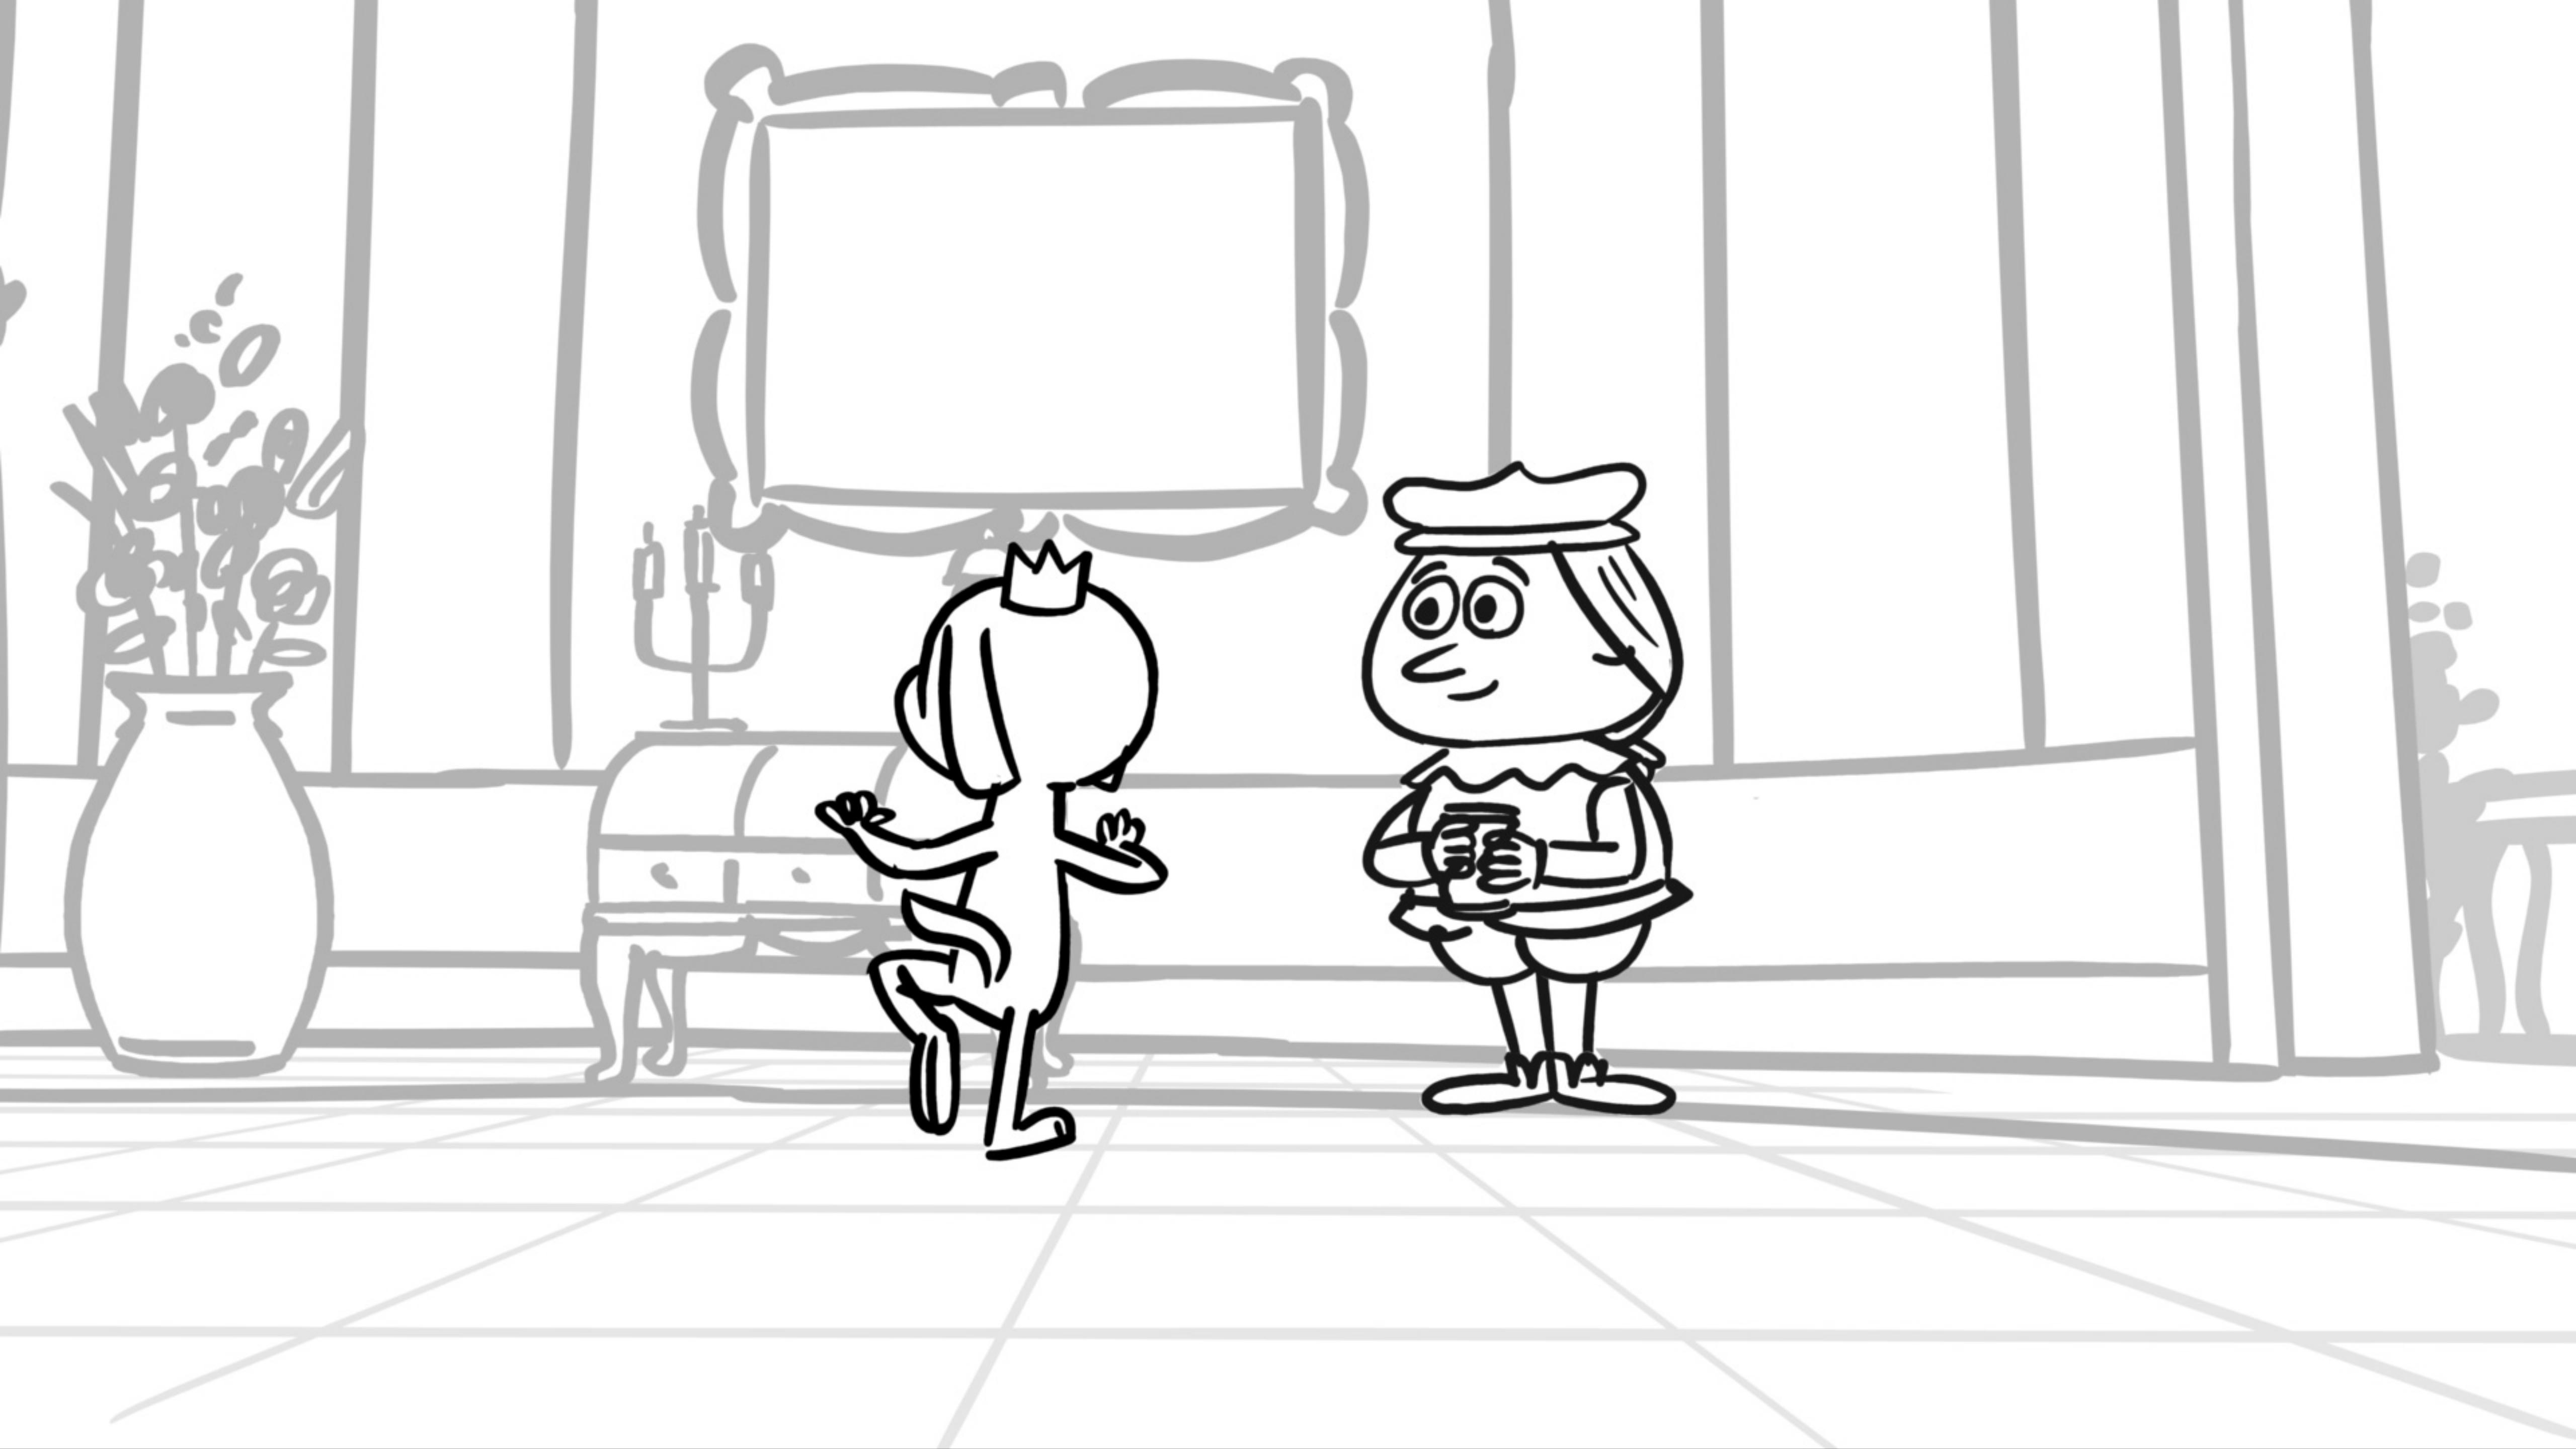

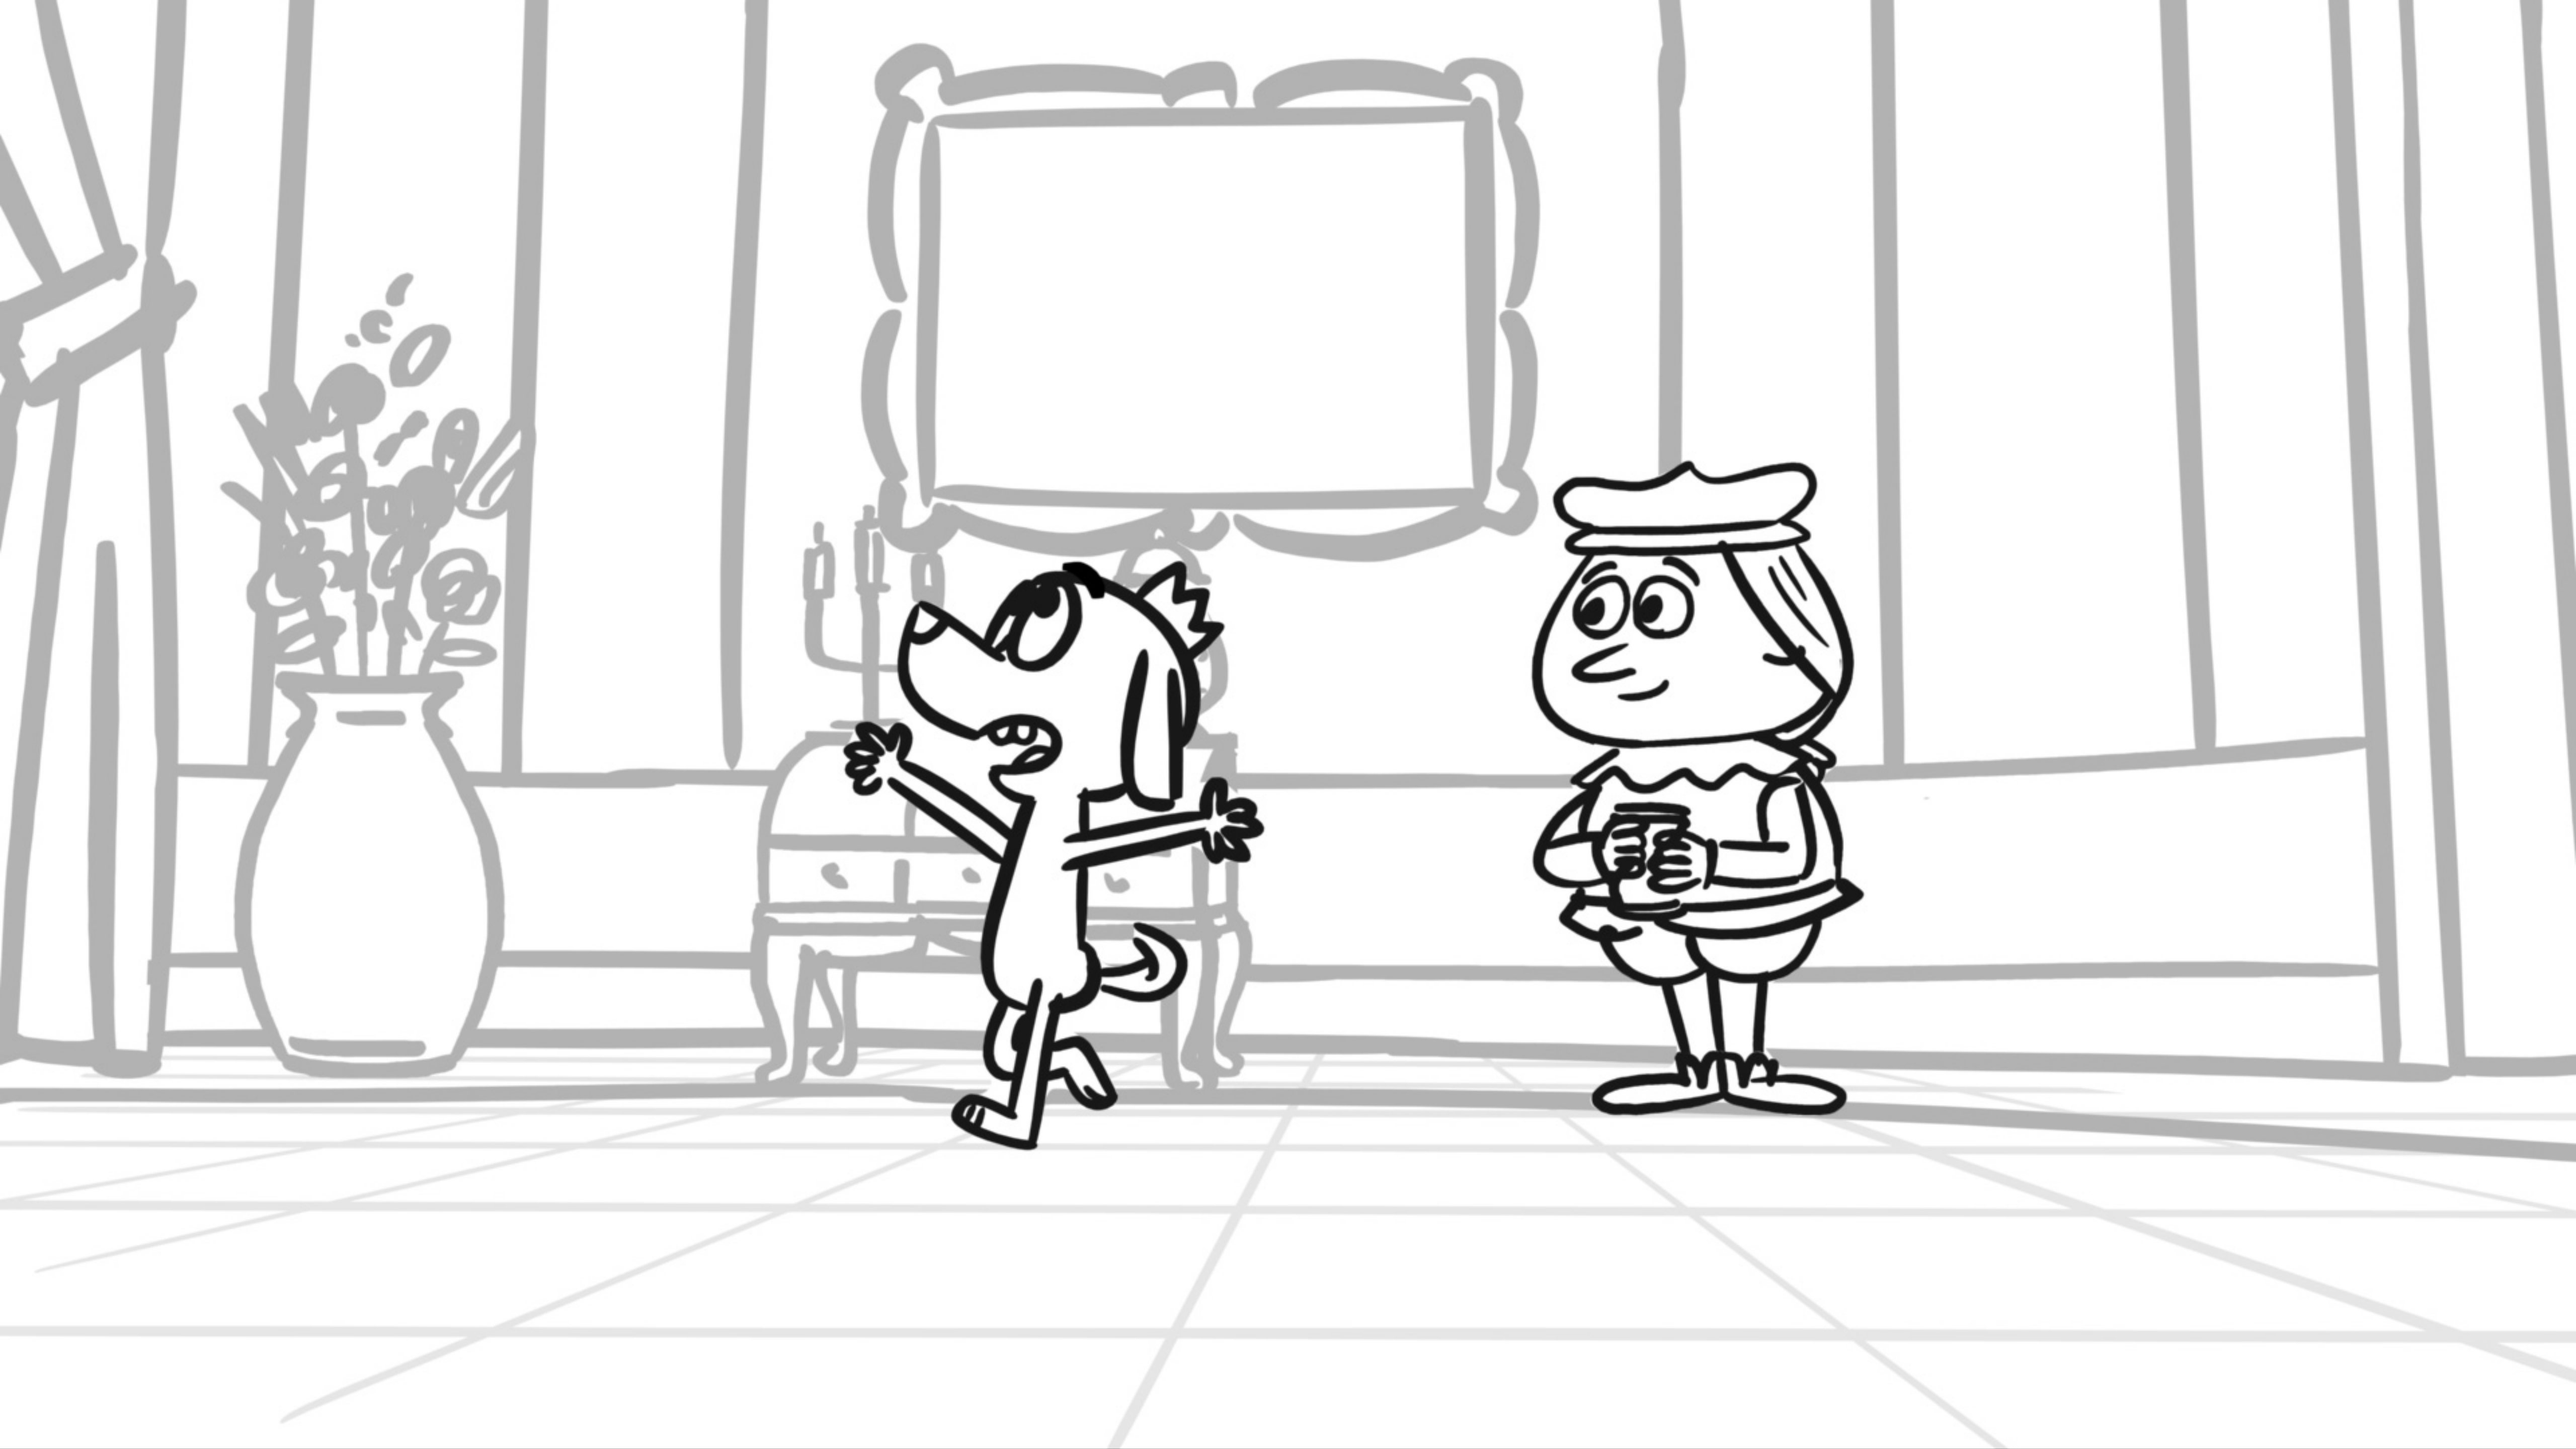

KING: A singing contest.

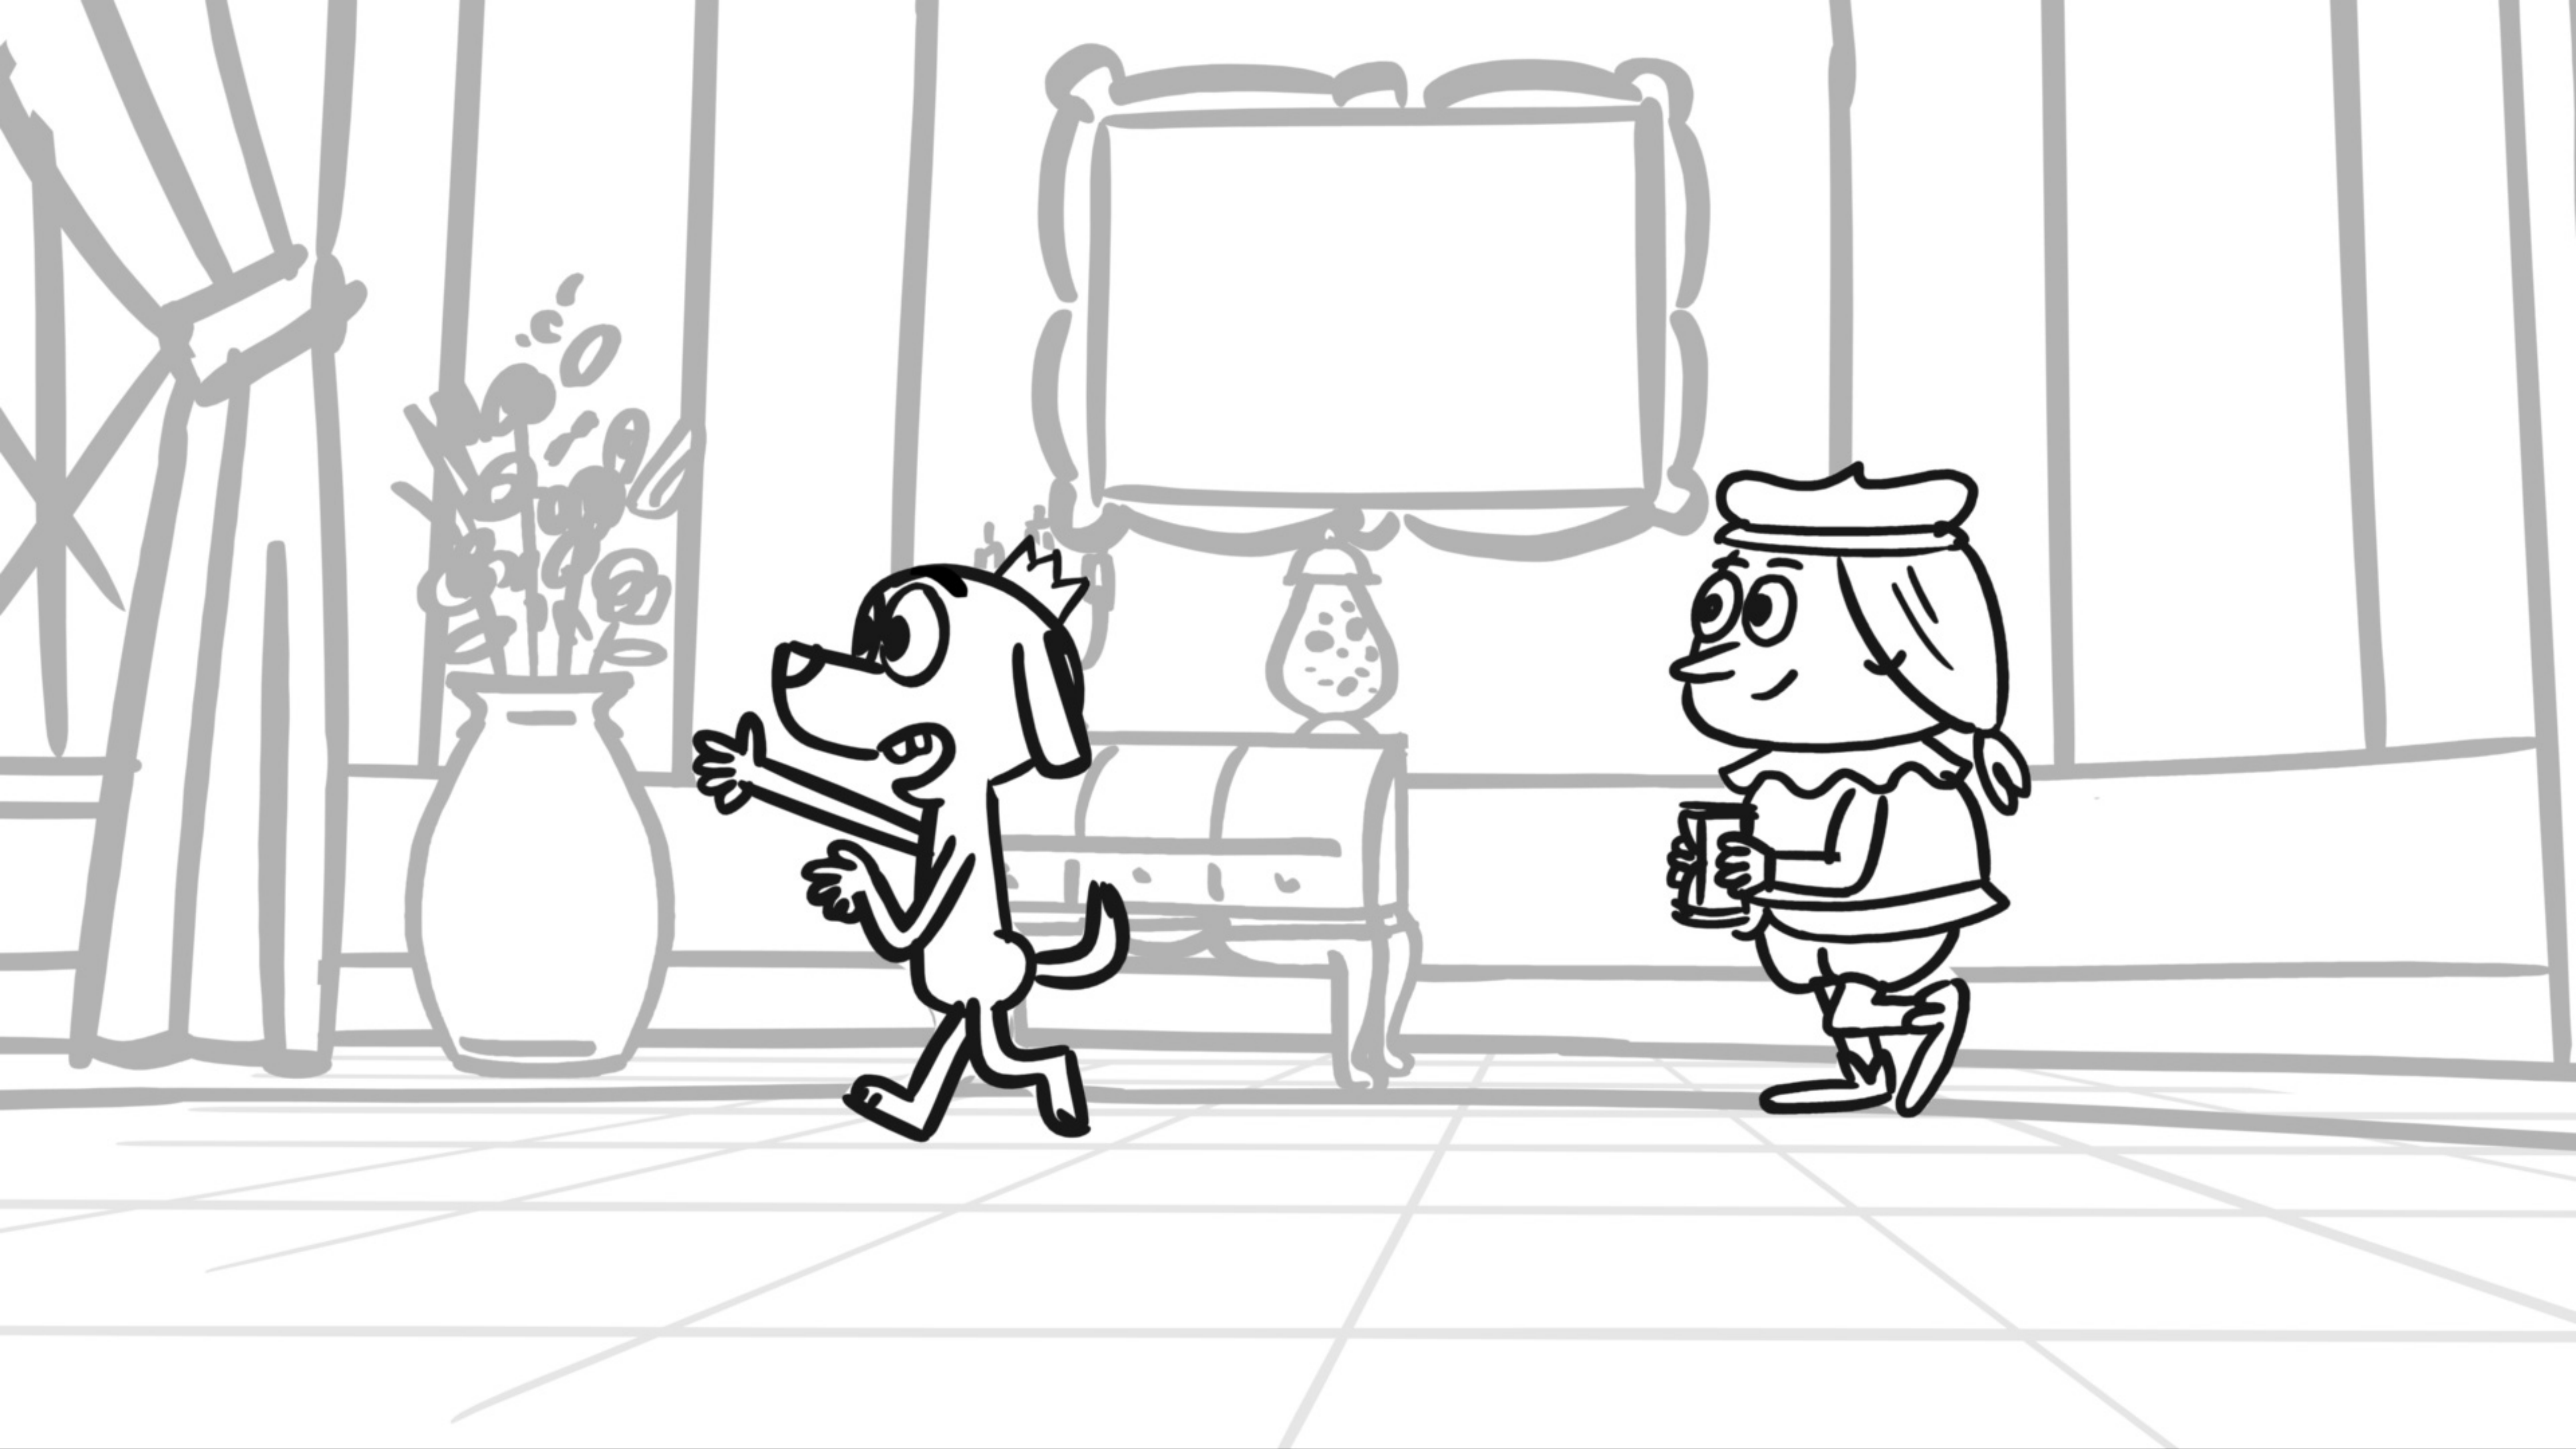

KING: That's perfect!

KING BARK: Make the arrangements.

KING BARK: Make the announcement.

KING BARK: Soon the land will have...

KING BARK: ...a queen.
